GODFREY PLANE AND OCCUPANTS FOUND FIRE WRECKS ISLAND LOGGING CAMP NEAR NANAIMO

BUILDINGS AND LOGS LOST IN SUNDAY BLAZE

Two Locomotives, Trucks Loaded with Logs, and Men's Belongings Go Up in Flames; 175 Men Lose Employment in Fire Causing Heavy Loss

Nanaimo, Sept. 24.—Fire last evening completely destroyed the logging camp of the Robert Dollar Company, located near Deep Bay, some fifty miles north of Nanaimo. The fire spread from a slashing which was being burned and spread with startling rapidity. Everything was destroyed, including bunkhouses, headquarters and all logging equipment including two locomotives. Even the trucks loaded with logs ready for shipment to tidal waters were consumed.

Owing to it being the week-end most of the employees were away to town and they lost all their belongings. Some 175 men are thrown out of employment and the monetary loss is heavy. There was no loss of life.

HUNTER FREED OF BLAME FOR SOOKE DEATH

Late Douglas Munday Came to End By Misadventure, Jury Verdict

Lawrence Woodward, the accidental discharge of whose rifle on Friday morning put an end to the life of his cousin and hunting companion, Douglas Munday, in the Sooke Hills, was exonerated of blame by a coroner's jury at the McCall Funeral Parlors this morning.

Mr. Woodward, on the advice of H. A. Beckwith, his counsel, gave his evidence under protest, claiming the protection of the Canada Evidence Act. In effect, he swore that his rifle discharged accidentally when he slipped on a rock, the bullet killing his friend.

Given the usual warning that his evidence could be advanced voluntarily or under protest, Mr. Woodward told Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart that his evidence was open and would be volunteered. H. A. Beckwith, his counsel, then retired with the witness, and announced on his return that Mr. Woodward would testify under protest.

Mr. Woodward said he had left the city by car at 4:30 a.m. Friday with the late Douglas Munday and B. P. Sutherland. At about 6 a.m. the party had separated, Sutherland staying on beach lands above the shore of Sooke Lake and Woodward and Munday climbing up the mountain. Witness said he and his cousin were hunting about 150 yards apart, keeping in touch with calls and whistles. At the edge of a dense second growth thicket they separated, witness to push through the growth, and his cousin to make a circle above and to his left.

ANSCOMB WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR MAYORALTY

Oak Bay Reeve Enters Municipal Contest With Brown and Dean

Herbert Anscomb, one of the best-known of Victoria's younger business men and former Reeve of Oak Bay, will be a candidate for the city mayoralty at the municipal election in December, it was announced to-day.

Mr. Anscomb was urged last year to run for Mayor, some 3,000 voters signing a petition which asked him to be a candidate. While he declined to oppose Mayor Fendry then, he has decided to enter the contest this year.

Mr. Anscomb is well-known in many public organizations, particularly as president of the Victoria Rotary Club, and for his service in the Oak Bay Council.

LIVELY CONTEST

The entry of Mr. Anscomb into the mayoralty race assures a lively three-cornered contest. Alderman Percy Brown was the first candidate to throw his hat into the ring, and was closely followed by John Dean, who ran against Mayor Fendry last year.

NARROWLY ESCAPE WHEN LAUNCH BURNS

Victoria Resident and Three Others Leap to Dinghy From Burning Craft

Engine Back-fires Setting Fire to Brentwood Boat; Little Girl Saved

Edward J. Monk of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cocking of Brentwood and their four-year-old granddaughter narrowly escaped a terrible death at Brentwood yesterday when a launch owned by Mr. Monk caught fire and burned to the water's edge with startling rapidity.

The four occupants of the launch had just stepped off the deck onto a dinghy at the side when the craft was swept by a mass of flames as the gasoline in the fuel tanks ignited. Fortunately they were able to pull quickly away from the burning wreck and escaped without injury.

The launch was a total loss, being burned to the gunwales.

ENGINE BACK-FIRED

According to reports of eye-witnesses of the accident, Mr. Monk's launch had stopped with engine trouble. The craft was slowly drifting toward the shore and was about fifty yards from the beach when smoke was noticed coming from the cabin. The engine back-fired, setting alight the gasoline and the flames were rapidly spreading.

Mr. Monk quickly drew the small dinghy alongside and the four made a hurried departure from the deck of the blazing craft. In her haste to leave the launch, Mrs. Cocking nearly capsize the smaller boat when she stepped on the gunwale, but beyond the shipping of a few pints of water no harm was done.

CRIES FOR HELP

Hearing cries for help from the burning vessel, boatmen near the scene rushed toward the boat and upon arrival found the occupants all safely away from the wreck in the dinghy.

The hull of the burned craft was afterwards beached but was declared a total loss. It was a twenty-foot cabin launch with an inboard motor.

Mr. Monk is a resident of 1815 Chambers Street, and was holidaying at Brentwood.

Chang Worries, Twenty of His Wives Missing

Mukden, Manchuria, Sept. 24.—General Chang Tsung Chang, the picturesque Chinese leader, who rose from a coolie laborer in Harbin, cannot locate but eight of his twenty-eight wives and concubines and this is worrying him more than the reverses he suffered in battle last week.

A little more than ten days ago, Chang bid a fond farewell to the female members of his household, and buckled his sword and started out for the battlefield northeast of Tientsin to engage General Paichang Shih, who held a mandate from the Nationalist high command to "clean up" that portion of the Chihli Shantung army commanded by Chang. Pierce fighting followed. Chang met defeat, his troops surrendered and his wives scattered in every direction. He has since been in seeking five concubines in Mukden, one Russian wife at Harbin and two more in Korea, but the whereabouts of the other twenty is unknown. The defeated dictator is frantically trying to find out.

Northcott's Lawyer Forecasts Big Fight Against Extradition

Anticipates Prolonged Legal Battle Before Mother and Son Return to California to Answer Murder Charge; Search on Riverside Farm Throws Little Light on Chicken Ranch Mystery

A FARCE, SAYS ACCUSED MAN

Northcott Accuses His Niece of Fabricating "Murder Farm" Story

Vancouver, Sept. 24.—One of the longest-drawn-out legal battles in the history of the Pacific Coast was hinted at Sunday night as Frank Lyons, counsel for Gordon Stuart Northcott, held at Oakalla by provincial police for Riverside, Cal., authorities on charges of murder, outlined his plans for the defence of his client.

Counsel will attempt, he declared, to require the presence in court here of Cyrus Northcott and Sanford and Jessie Clark when extradition proceedings are heard. It will be weeks, perhaps months, before California can secure extradition of Northcott, his lawyer insisted.

Frequent references were made by the Vancouver barrister, as he sketched his plan of campaign, to the Panetta case, in which extradition was refused by the British Columbia courts.

CALLS FOR WITNESSES

"I fear the court will require very strong prima facie evidence before granting extradition in such a serious case, and I intend to apply for the production here of such witnesses as Sanford Clark, Cyrus Northcott and Jessie Clark, so that they can be thoroughly cross-examined. I can not demand this as of right, but I am going to exert my strongest efforts to that end."

Extradition proceedings, when they are finally instituted will probably be heard in the County Court, the barrister stated. He expected, he said, Judge Cayley would hear the case, remarking that most cases of this nature were argued before him.

Unless permission is refused by the bar of California, Frank Lyons will defend Northcott, and his mother at Riverside in the event of extradition being granted by the B.C. Courts.

Boat Reported Upset; Rumor Thought False

A rumor circulated in the city to-day that a small vessel had been seen capsized near Discovery Island was considered unfounded by the police.

Oak Bay police received reports from beach-front residents last night and early this morning that a hull had been seen in the vicinity, but as far as they could discover this morning these rumors had no foundation.

COOL WEATHER STARTS HERE

Showers Coming After Record September Heat, Says Weather Man

After a week of record heat for this season, Victoria is due for a period of unsettled cool weather with showers and southerly winds, F. Napier Denison, superintendent of Gonzales Observatory, announced this morning.

On Saturday the mercury climbed to 82 degrees, a record for the month so far and the highest point attained in September for the last ten years. On September 28, 1918, the temperature stood at 83 degrees, while other hot days registered during this month occurred on September 6, 1903, and September 9, 1907, when the temperature reached 85 degrees.

The hot spell was general on the Pacific Coast, with thermometers registering from 76 degrees in Prince Rupert to 90 at the Golden Gate. In the Sacramento Valley the century mark was reached.

Although the humidity about Vancouver Island is increasing dry weather still prevails in the southern Coasts States and many forest fires are reported in California. To date in Victoria this month's rainfall stands at 24 of an inch, approximately 1.29 inches below the average for this period.

Big Machine Total Wreck After Crash Into Peace River Through Smoke

BRITISH ELECTION NEXT SPRING IS GENERAL OPINION

London, Sept. 24.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Close observers of political conditions here generally express the certainty of a general election next Spring. While no announcement of the date has yet been made by the Government, it is generally assumed in Conservative circles that Premier Baldwin will go to the country in May, 1929.

SNOW IN LONDON

London, Sept. 24.—London experienced a flurry of snow yesterday which lasted over a six-minute period. Country points reported hailstorms. The disturbances followed several days of unseasonable cold weather.

Lightning Action of Wing Commander Gordon in Opening Cabin Door as Plane Struck and Sank to Level of Wings Enabled Four on Vancouver to Ottawa Flight to Escape Under Water and Swim to Shore; General A. D. McRae and Trapper in Chartered Boat End Week's Search

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Squadron Leader E. A. Godfrey, who with three companions has been missing in the Peace River district of Northern Alberta for a week, has been found. One member of the party, Wing Commander Lindsay Gordon of the Royal Air Force, was slightly injured, and the big seaplane in which Major Godfrey was attempting to fly from Vancouver to Ottawa is reported to be a total wreck.

Dense smoke caused a forced landing and the plane crashed into the Peace River near Carleton, about 100 miles from Peace River town.

Must Survey P. G. E. Before Attempting to Sell It, Says Tolmie

Vancouver, Sept. 24.—"There is doubt that the ultimate destiny of the P.G.E. is in its linking up with the Peace River, via Prince George," declared Premier S. E. Tolmie on his arrival in Vancouver at noon, after a trip with his cabinet members over the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. Hon. Dr. Tolmie was silent as to the immediate future, but commented on the trip.

BIG SETTLEMENT PLAN IN NORTH, LONDON REPORT

Tolmie Understood to Be Shaping Peace River Colonization

Co-operation With Britain Is Urged; no Westward Outlet Now

Plans for the colonization of the Peace River district on an enormous scale are being shaped by the Tolmie Government, apparently in co-operation with officials of the British Empire Settlement Board, according to advices reaching London and published in British newspapers to-day.

This indication that the provincial Ministry is shaping a definite settlement programme in the North followed the announcement of Premier Tolmie in Quenesel Saturday that "we may be expected to announce action before long."

At the same time E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was announcing in Montreal that his company, after taking over the Alberta Government's northern railways, would extend them to open up the Peace River country in a big way, but that it would not give that territory a westward outlet to the Pacific Coast via the Pacific Great Eastern Railway for the present anyway.

Brisk Wind Makes Fire Threatening as $40,000 Building is Destroyed

Calgary, Sept. 24.—All Cochrane turned out Sunday night to save the town after fire had broken out at 9 o'clock in the Fisher building, which was totally destroyed with an estimated loss of $40,000 partly covered by insurance.

FLIER KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Carmel, Cal., Sept. 24.—Jack Mulgard, commercial flier, was killed, and William Crownwell, fireman from Monterey, was seriously injured yesterday when Mulgard's plane crashed while he was taking Crownwell for a ride. The cause of the crash was undetermined.

In a special report to the Canadian Press received last night, it was learned that Major Godfrey and his party were located by General A. D. McRae, Conservative member of Parliament for Vancouver, North, with a trapper named Holland.

ONE INJURED

Wing Commander Gordon is suffering somewhat from a bruised leg, although his condition is not serious in any respect. The two other members of the party, Wing Commander L. S. Broadner, and Sgt. Major M. Graham, mechanic, as well as Major Godfrey, escaped injury.

The grave danger of the entire party located in the seaplane cabin, which sank immediately to the level of the wings, was avoided by the lightning action of Wing Commander Gordon in opening the cabin door as the plane struck. All the members of the party escaped under water to the wings and then swam some 100 feet to the shore.

THOUGHT THEM DOUKHOBS

The trapper Holland, viewing the party drying their clothes before a fire on the opposite side of the river, concluded that a party of Doukchobas had arrived, but on repeated signals, went over in a boat and rescued the airmen.

General McRae and those in the party accompanying him, took Wing Commander Gordon and Wing Commander Broadner on their chartered boat, which by pre-arrangement was left at Battle River. The fliers will arrive at Peace River by boat at noon to-morrow.

General McRae and his party provisioned Major Godfrey and his companions. Sgt. Major M. Graham, for a week and they remained behind to dismantle the engine of the plane.

General McRae's chartered boat is returning immediately to bring Major Godfrey and his mechanic to Peace River.

DENSE SMOKE AREA

The smoke area in the district is reported to be very dense, covering about fifty miles.

Commenting on the situation, it is said that the Hudson's Bay steamer D. A. Thomas, which stranded on the rocks in the Peace River the day before the forced landing of the fliers, has left the entire district from Peace River to Vermilion without transportation.

In the special dispatch to the Canadian Press great credit is given to the work of Major Godfrey and Wing Commander Broadner in diving from the plane's wings and recovering from the submerged cabin nearly all of their equipment.

Lack of telegraphic communication delayed, it is said, the reporting of the finding of the party.

LOS ANGELES IS ROCKED BY EARTH SHOCKS

Los Angeles, Sept. 24.—When the district was rocked by a series of earthquakes yesterday, residents of Los Angeles in many parts of the city rushed from their homes. Three distinct shocks were reported, the first at 8 o'clock, the second at 9:45 a.m. and the third at 9:46. Reports received from El Centro, on the floor of the Imperial Valley, said that shocks of unusual proportions were felt there also during the morning.

BRITAIN GOING DRY RAPIDLY

London, Sept. 24.—The Sunday Express proclaims in the headlines on its front page that Britain is rapidly going dry. The consumption of liquor in England during the last fiscal year was less than a third of that consumed at the beginning of the century, according to figures just issued. The 1900 consumption of spirits in England was 32,229,522 gallons, against 10,429,211 gallons last year. Before the war there were 2,000,000 total abstainers where now there are 10,000,000. The annual per capita drink bill has dropped to $33 from $50.

"These figures show the radical improvement in our social habits," says The Express. "Drunkenness is now a rare spectacle in towns and villages. This great social revolution is due partly to education, partly to the motor car, partly to sports and partly to the increase in healthy amusements."

YOUTH ADMITS KIDNAP CRIME

Death Penalty Asked in Honolulu For Nineteen-year-old Japanese

Spending of Ransom Money Gives Clue to Arrest

Honolulu, Sept. 24.—Honolulu's first major crime—the kidnapping and slaying of ten-year-old Gill Jamieson—was solved Saturday night with the arrest and confession of Myles Yutaka Fukunaga, nineteen-year-old Japanese boy.

A large crowd quickly gathered around the jail and extra deputies and national guardsmen were called on duty to maintain order. The crowd, after refusing to disperse at the request of officials, was chased to cover when a fire engine was called and water was played upon the gatherers. The temper of the crowd was at a high pitch. The prosecution will move rapidly. The grand jury has been called to meet at 1.30 p.m. to-day and an indictment charging first degree murder is expected to be returned Tuesday. Deputy City Attorney Francis Brooks said the death penalty would be asked.

The prisoner was transferred from the police station jail to Oahu prison late last night. Officials took this precaution to prevent any mob action. National Guardsmen were still on duty in the streets of Honolulu to-day and every effort was being made to halt any mob action.

The Japanese youth told officials that he had studied the methods used by Loeb and Leopold in the Frank's murder in Chicago. William Edward Hickman's kidnapping and slaying of Marian Parker in Los Angeles served as a model for Fukunaga. He lured the boy away from school on the pretext that Mrs. Jamieson had been injured, took him to a lonely spot and strangled him to death.

DEMANDED $10,000
Fukunaga in his confession last night, said he took Gill to an unfrequented glade near the Royal Hawaiian Hotel at Waikiki and killed him a few hours after taking him from school Tuesday. He returned to Honolulu, wrote Jamieson, vice-president of the Hawaiian Trust Company and demanded $10,000 ransom.

Jamieson met him at a street corner that night and gave him $4,000. Fukunaga told police he believed he was receiving $10,000, and after counting the money thought he lost $6,000 in his hasty retreat from the street corner where he met the banker.

Jamieson visited the city jail last night but was unable to identify Fukunaga as the person to whom he paid the $4,000.

Revenge was the motive the Japanese gave for his crime. The plan was first evolved last March when the Hawaiian Trust Company was pressing father for rent, which was in arrears.

Fukunaga went to Wallua, on the other side of Oahu, opposite from Honolulu where he spent several days. He returned to Honolulu yesterday morning.

SPENDING RANSOM MONEY

It was the spending of one of the five dollar bills contained in the ransom money package for a railroad ticket that gave officers their first tangible clue in running the kidnapper-slayer down. His home in Honolulu was visited and there was found most of the ransom money. He

SUGGESTS GREATER DAIRY PRODUCTION

Quebec, Sept. 24.—"Let us produce in sufficient quantities, about four or five times our present production of bacon and dairy products and Canada will occupy second place to no country in the product markets of the world," stated Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture in the Quebec in an interview on his arrival at Quebec. It was also his opinion that Canada should not present to the world at large the appearance of being over-anxious to secure considerable numbers of new settlers. Undoubtedly more population was needed in Canada, but on the other hand, to advertise that fact too prominently might create the impression in other countries that the Dominion was experiencing great difficulty in securing and retaining its immigrants.

Before Fukunaga made his confession detectives announced he was a drug addict. A drug outfit was found near the body of Gill Jamieson. The arrest ended a five-day man-hunt in which thousands joined. Gill Jamieson was kidnapped Tuesday afternoon.

LITTLE IMMIGRANT'S OVERCOAT TURNS UP WITH CUP AND ALL

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 24.—Another human interest story was recorded in the diary of the mission of the Canadian Pacific Railway Station here to-day.

Some little time ago, Earl Jeffrey, a young British lad nine years of age was sent to this country, to take residence with his uncle occupying a ranch in the Far West. After crossing the Atlantic and 1,800 miles of land, Earl was not feeling particularly pleased with the rest of the world, and when he arrived here, took special pains to put this in evidence. However, after a little coaxing on behalf of the officials of the railway and the matron, he was cheered and placed on the night train for the ranch.

Three weeks later the matron received a letter from the nine-year-old lad stating that he had lost his overcoat, and would the please look on the first bench at the top of the stairs? He was under the impression that he had left it there and she could recognize it easily because in the right pocket there was a specially designed china cup. After a little investigation

At the prisoner's request, a telegram was sent Sunday to Mrs. Northcott, urging her to bear up under the strain to which both are being subjected and advising her to secure her transfer to Vancouver if possible.

Later in the day Northcott asked to see a Jesuit priest, and spent some time with him when he arrived.

Discussing the delay of California police in reaching Vancouver with documents necessary to institute proceedings to deport Northcott and his mother, counsel said: "I do not quite understand what is going on across the border. I have heard it mentioned that the Riverside authorities may fly to Vancouver. They must be great flying enthusiasts. The preliminaries at Sacramento, Washington and Ottawa before any legal documents can be obtained to start extradition proceedings will take weeks. They will arrive here in plenty of time if they take a tramp steamer."

"In the recent extradition case of Panetta, in which I was able to secure refusal of extradition from the Supreme Court of British Columbia, under somewhat similar circumstances police of Beverly, Mass., came to Vancouver and remained here three months. They were here six weeks before the case got under way at all.

"I anticipate it will be at least two months before any real work can be done toward securing the extradition of Northcott."

After an exchange of telegrams between police in Los Angeles, Calgary and Vancouver, it has been decided to leave Mrs. Louisa Northcott in the Alberta city for the present.

Chief of Police D. Ritchie has agreed to retain Mrs. Northcott in the Calgary jail for a short time at least; and in the meantime the United States consul has intervened to expedite the extradition proceedings.

The consul has arranged to discuss the whole case with Walter Owen, assistant Superintendent of Provincial Police, Vancouver.

Nothing definite has evolved out of the exchange of telegrams, said Mr. Owen, except that it looked like Mrs. Northcott would remain for a little time in Calgary. The U.S. consul, he explained, has taken the matter in hand for the purpose of reaching a conclusion in the near future. The situation would continue unchanged for a few days, said Mr. Owen.

WORKER KILLED AT SUB STATION

Forty Thousand Volts End
Life of Vancouver Aldermanic Candidate

Vancouver, Sept. 24.—Burns which covered his body from head to foot, suffered when he was shocked by 40,000 volts of electricity at Earl's Road sub-station of the B.C. Electric Railway Company at 10 a.m. Sunday, caused the death of J. B. Brown, 2919 Twenty-ninth Avenue East, aldermanic candidate in the new ward five, in the General Hospital at 1:35 a.m.

Although the shock was so severe that his hair and clothes were burned from his body, Brown showed great courage in walking unassisted to and from the stretcher which bore him to the hospital. He remained delirious until his death.

Brown was in the sub-station, where he was employed as a switchman, when the accident occurred. It is believed that he attempted to operate one of the high voltage switches and came in contact with a wire.

At the sound of a cry for help a fellow employee rushed to the aid of the injured man. An ambulance was summoned and Brown was conveyed to the hospital.

Brown was nominated for the new City Council at the forthcoming election by the ratepayers of the present Ward Seven.

MYSTERY MARKS BODY IN BUSH

Provincial Police Believe Man
May Have Been Murdered
in Vancouver

New Westminster, Sept. 24.—Police investigation has disclosed a scar behind the ear of the man whose body was found in the bush at Maillardville Saturday evening. No post-mortem examination has been made as yet, but it is believed that was caused by a blow from some instrument. No weapon was found near the body. Provincial police believe that the man may have been murdered in Vancouver, the number "501" on the key found on the body indicating a hotel too large to be located in any small centre.

The fact that the body was dressed in new clothes would indicate that the victim had come to town flush with money after season's work and purchased an entirely new outfit. There is a possibility that the man was knocked down by an automobile, and his body disposed of by dragging it into the bush. That the body was taken to the place where it was found, has been established, beyond a doubt.

SAFE CRACKED
Vancouver, Sept. 24.—Safe-crackers who have been responsible for a series of week-end robberies in Vancouver added another successful raid to their list Sunday when they smashed open the safe of Pilkington Bros., Canada, Limited, Powell Street, and escaped with $35.

DISEASE SWEEPS PORTO RICO NOW

Over 20,000 Cases of 'Flu,
Malaria and Other Diseases
Reported

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 24.—More than 15,000 cases of influenza were reported by the health authorities and Red Cross Chapter at the island relief organization meeting here yesterday. Five thousand other cases of malaria, measles and other diseases were also reported.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 24.—Porto Rico, after a week of desperate effort following upon the hurricane, is prepared to go forward with rehabilitation with the satisfaction of two tasks accomplished.

The storm wreckage has been cleared away sufficiently to permit survey of the entire island and the movement of supplies. Relief, pouring in from the outside to augment local resources, had succored the stricken people in their most helpless moment.

The United States quarantine hospital and that of the school of tropical medicine have been converted into emergency hospitals.

$350 Damage In Washington Fire

Omak, Wash., Sept. 24.—Fire Sunday destroyed the Coleman Lumber Company sawmill and gutted a dozen dry kilns, burning thousands of feet of lumber. Loss is estimated at $350,000. Three hundred men will be thrown out of work. The plant was one of the largest in this part of the state.

"One of the most interesting features of the trip was the visit to the scene of the Lorne Coronation and Pioneer Mining developments at Bridge River. In connection with the Pioneer, I was struck by the completeness of their new plant."

NATURAL RESOURCES

"One feature of this side trip that impressed me was the indications of wealth in natural resources lying back from the railway. As this is a restricted and developed by roads it will indeed be difficult to estimate what this territory will produce within a measurable space of years from the present. Not only is there great mineral wealth hidden in those valleys, but there are also timber resources which will no doubt be developed as means of giving it access to the markets are improved."

At Bridge River we also had an opportunity of seeing something of the development work of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, now under way.

STOCK DEVELOPMENT

"In regard to agriculture, I was impressed with the extent of grazing and meadowland along the route. It is now the cattle shipping season and with the good prices received, I think there is no question but it must tend to make greater development of our grazing and stockraising opportunities that we at present enjoy."

I was also impressed by the quality of the fruits and vegetables raised in the P.G.E. area. When we arrived at Quesnel their annual Fall fair had been held a few days previous, but the public spirited citizens kept the exhibits on view so that they might be seen by the members of our party. I am sure that the size and quality of some of these exhibits, such as vegetables and field roots generally, were surprise to many of us. They are certainly encouraging indications of what this country can produce when it becomes more fully developed."

ROAD IN GOOD SHAPE

"We found the road in excellent shape, and the board of directors are certainly to be congratulated on the good work they have done in straightening out the track and in replacing bridges and trestles with concrete work and earth fills, all with a view to permanent improvement. They have undoubtedly rendered a valuable service to the people of this Province."

"Personally one of the keenest pleasures I have derived from the trip was in meeting the pioneers and settlers at little country towns and shaking them by the hand and having a heart to heart talk. I always feel that the country owes to these men a debt it would be difficult to repay, and I was certainly glad to meet them."

A REVELATION

"I should like also to pay a tribute to hospitality with which we were greeted wherever we went. In this respect the reputation of the people of British Columbia for many years past was more than maintained."

"On the whole, the trip has been, I am sure, a revelation to many of us, and should be of inestimable value when the question of the future of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is being discussed in the House or before the country."

HEARD RUSTLING
Witness said he forced his way through matted undergrowth until he came to a small rocky clearing, covered with light moss. There his attention was attracted by a rustle in the bush to his right and below him. He prepared his rifle but had no intention of shooting, as he could see nothing through the bush.

To get a clearer view, witness said he crouched down. In crouching, he lost his balance and took one hand off the rifle to steady himself on the ground. At that moment the rifle went off. Then followed a shout, and witness dropped his rifle to press through the bush to the place where he heard the sound. He found his cousin desperately wounded, apparently already dead. It was here for him to believe the man actually was his cousin, whom he had supposed to be to his left and a considerable distance up the hill.

TRIED TO CARRY BODY
Mr. Woodward said he tried for a matter of hours to attract the attention of the third member of the party, Sutherland, but this proving fruitless, attempted to carry out the body unaided. He collapsed under the weight, and left the remains, after moving them seventy-five feet to a more open place, to summon aid. After notifying the authorities, witness said he re-mailed on the scene until told he might leave.

In response to questions, witness said at no time had he formed any intention of firing the rifle, repeated that he had been astonished to find his cousin off his intended course, and below him on the hill. He had been hunting for twelve years, and was an experienced woodsman, he said.

REPORTED ACCIDENT

William Kenyon and Robert E. Stevens, employees of the Kapoor Lumber Company at Sooke, corroborated the evidence of Mr. Woodward as to his reporting accident, and asking for the police. Mr. Woodward had led them to the body, and had awaited the arrival of the authorities, they said.

Stevens told of finding Mr. Woodward's rifle lying on a bald rock in the centre of a small clearing, surrounded by very dense bush, and a shotgun that had been carried by the late Douglas Munday, twenty-six feet away in heavy growth.

Provincial Constables Hugh P. Hughes and Richard Meadows told of being led to the body and of examining the scene. At twenty-six feet distant with the end of a tape in the hands of each, neither constable had been able to see the other through the bush, they stated. The moss on the rock in the clearing had been pushed aside, as if someone had slipped, they said.

The point where the body fell was from six to eight feet below this spot in level, and twenty-six feet distant. The rifle was a .38 S&W Winchester carbine, loaded with soft-nosed bullets, one discharged.

DEATH CAME FAST
Dr. John H. Moore, autopsist, told of the passage of the bullet through the body. It had entered the back, near the fourth rib, which was fractured, and had been deflected through the chest to re-enter the body at the neck, and pass through to the other side. The greater vessels in the neck had been severed, and this had resulted in death in a very short time, he said.

In summing up the evidence, Dr. Hart pointed out that only two people had been in a position to know anything about the fatality. One had died, and the story of the other was before the jury. If the jury believed that story it would have no other course open to it but to find a verdict of death by misadventure. Insofar as he could judge, nothing had been said to contradict the story told by the chief witness, he concluded.

The jury returned after three minutes with a verdict of death by misadventure, announced by Phil Austin, the foreman.

BIG SETTLEMENT PLAN IN NORTH, LONDON REPORT

make the announcement foreshadowed at Ashcroft is not known yet.

London newspapers to-day gave much prominence to the Peace River colonization plans which, it is presumed, were discussed between the Cabinet and Lord Lovat, chairman of the Empire Settlement Board, at their recent conference in Victoria.

LONDON INTERESTED

The intention of the Tolmie Government of British Columbia to implement a scheme of developing the Peace River district is eulogized in the principal editorial in The London Morning Post to-day.

"The scheme may seem ambitious," says The Post, "but its boldness is the best assurance of its value. Piece-meal policies will never solve the problem of settlement of the vast resources of the Canadian Northwest. In such a scheme the Government at home might be expected to co-operate. Large sums of money voted here for emigration have not been employed to any commensurate advantage."

No details of the scheme were given out in London.

MUST MAKE SURVEY

"I do not believe in trying to trade, sell, or develop the P.G.E. Railway without finding what there is to trade, sell, or develop," said Premier Tolmie, in his Quesnel speech.

He referred to his promises made during the recent campaign that he was going to make a thorough survey of the road and its possibilities before announcing what would be done with it.

"We have started," he said, "on our investigation, and we may be expected to announce action before very long. I hope not to give you ten years of hot air."

This announcement followed an address by J. A. Fraser, Federal member for the Cariboo riding, who said it had always been an enigma why the Liberal Government suspended construction of the railway.

BEATY OPTIMISTIC

Faith in the future possibilities of the Peace River district as rich agricultural country prompted the Canadian Pacific Railway to purchase the Alberta Government Railways, E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the company, said in stating that expansion of railway facilities in that area would take place.

Mr. Beatty said he would not be content with the purchase of the lines as they stand. The Peace River country was such a tremendous area, and its agricultural possibilities were so great that the C.P.R. plans included pushing extension westward through the fertile belt, with the construction of what he called a "backbone" line, to see that northern agriculture gets its place in the sun.

The C.P.R. was prepared to face deficits for the next five years on the newly-acquired Alberta lines, and the proposed extensions would mean more deficits, but Mr. Beatty said the railway was building for the future, and his offer to buy the railways reflected his faith in that country.

NO OUTLET NOW

In response to the suggestion that the C.P.R. might push the extension beyond the British Columbia border through the mountains and link with the Pacific Great Eastern at Fort George, Mr. Beatty felt that was not for the present.

"It would be a tremendous undertaking," he replied, "and possibly it would not be justified. I know the Peace River district is going to be one of the important sections of the Dominion, and it must have the railway facilities essential for its development. I suppose the day will come when there will have to be an outlet in that direction for the produce from the western end of the Peace River district, but not yet."

NOT NORTHWARD NOW

Mr. Beatty also stated that building plans did not include extension of the railway northward from the town of Peace River, though the map indicates that the district at the North is becoming well settled. It is pierced by the Peace River, which has shipping facilities, and that much serve for the meantime, he said.

The Greatest Man in the World

TO those dear to you, you are the greatest man in the world . . . the wisest and the most far-sighted. They trust you to protect them from hardship and privation. And to the best of your ability you would do so.

Yet there may come a day when you will no longer be here to shield them . . . to provide for their needs. Will their faith in you then be justified?

You realize that their confidence challenges you to greater vigilance in their behalf. Have you made the provision for them that you know to be necessary? Is your Life Insurance sufficient to meet their needs? Do you realize that $5,000 invested at 6% yields an income of less than $6 per week?

For the sake of those who love and respect and trust you . . . those to whom you are the "greatest man in the world" . . . take pencil and paper, and figure how much you have done toward the building up of an estate. Then call in the representative of any Life Insurance Company and learn how little is the cost of adequate protection.

this alarming prevalence of poor teeth

TEETH lead a lazy life these days—that's why poor teeth have become the rule rather than the exception! Practically every dish on our mealtime menu is soft—ready to be swallowed almost with one gulp. Consequently your teeth miss the valuable exercise which chewing gives them—the digestive juices of your stomach fail to receive the stimulation which thorough mastication gives.

More crisp food which must be chewed is what you need. And here is one delightfully crisp food which you will like to chew—that you may enjoy to the full its delicious nut-like flavor. This food is Grape-Nuts.

What's more, Grape-Nuts plays an important part in tooth building also. The health-giving, golden grains from which it is made—whole wheat and malted barley—are prepared by a special process. Because of this, Grape-Nuts retains valuable elements often lacking in modern foods—and it is very easy to digest. It supplies phosphorus for teeth and bones; dextrins, maltose and other carbohydrates for energy; iron for the blood; protein for muscle and body-building; and the essential vitamin-B.

Try this famous food to-morrow morning. You will enjoy it thoroughly. You will benefit by its nourishing qualities and its crispness.

WHAT WILL MR. BENNETT DO?

IT WILL BE INTERESTING TO WATCH Hon. R. B. Bennett's reaction to the Tolmie Government's opposition to Nova Scotia's application for higher duties on imports of United States coal. The Conservative leader recently toured the Maritime Provinces and his many speeches were marked by his staunch advocacy of tariff protection. We may assume that as a result of that intensive campaign the interests in that part of the Dominion were encouraged to make their application to the Federal Tariff Board.

We are particularly interested in this matter because Mr. Bennett has announced his intention of coming to British Columbia at an early date. The people of Vancouver Island, of course, are vitally concerned about the coal mining industry. It provides some large payrolls and the workers engaged will strenuously fight any policy which might jeopardize their means of livelihood. They know that if the authorities in Nova Scotia get their way, the United States quite probably would retaliate, either by putting an embargo upon those coal supplies which are so essential to the industrial and domestic life of certain parts of Central Canada, or by imposing a prohibitive tariff against British Columbia coal which finds a ready market in many American cities on this Coast.

Attorney-General Pooley already has instructed counsel at Ottawa to oppose the application for higher duties before the Tariff Advisory Board. What those more directly concerned in the matter now naturally desire to know, however, is what attitude the leader of the Conservative Opposition at Ottawa will adopt when he comes to British Columbia. He is bound to discuss the tariff and advocate higher duties. Will he agree with the policy of the Tolmie Government in opposing higher duties on coal or with the Government of Nova Scotia in advocating them?

The Tolmie Government is a high protectionist Government. Many of its members took the platform in the last Federal election campaign and stoutly supported the tariff policy for which Mr. Meighen stood and for which Mr. Bennett stands—and which the people of Canada so decisively rejected. But the Government's action in opposing Nova Scotia's application to the Tariff Board clearly emphasizes the fact that responsibility in office is a great educator. Just a little more than a month has elapsed since the Government was sworn in and already we see its conversion to a sound Liberal principle.

This also reminds us that at the last session of the Legislature the Conservative Opposition reiterated its strenuous objection to the export of logs from British Columbia to the United States and other countries. The familiar cry of "keep the boys at home" resounded from every Conservative platform during the recent election campaign. Mr. Pattullo and other members of the late Government explained on a number of occasions that the few logs which left the province in their raw state were logs for which no market existed here. The Times referred to the same subject dozens of times. It also was explained that if the Government imposed an embargo upon the export of these logs, the United States most certainly would have retaliated with an import duty on British Columbia shingles, and an important industry in British Columbia—"keeping many boys at home"—would have been dealt a staggering blow, since ninety per cent. of our shingle output goes to the neighboring states. We venture to predict that the Tolmie Government will make no application to the Tariff Board of Canada for an embargo on the export of logs.

In this connection we note in The Canadian Gazette that an extension of one year has been given to a company, which has been logging in the Dominion railway belt, to complete its operations. This company is controlled by Hon. Mr. Loughheed, Minister of Public Works. We may take this as another reason why the new Administration will conveniently forget about an embargo on logs—until it passes into the Opposition ranks again, when it will sing the ditty into the ears of the electors.

SHOULD NOT BE TOO SEVERE

ATTENTION HAS BEEN CALLED IN the British press to the case of a youth in Derbyshire convicted on a revolting assault charge, being spared a prison sentence on the understanding that he would leave the country and try and make good in one of the "colonies." He came out to Canada in July under the assisted-passage scheme and is now working in Manitoba.

The Canadian authorities in London have taken this matter up with the Home Office and the Under-Secretary of that Department has signified to them that he disavows any sympathy with the course taken by the magistrate in question. In the meantime, Mr. J. Bruce Walker, Superintendent of Canadian Emigration in Europe, has cabled to Ottawa asking that the young man be sent back home.

We would hesitate to go as far as this. It is likely that the young man has repented and is determined to wipe out an unsavory past by becoming a hard-working and prosperous Canadian. If that be his ambition, nothing should be done that might sour him for the rest of his life and possibly launch him on a new career of crime. It is highly desirable, however, that emphasis be given to cases of this sort if only to impress upon certain officials holding positions of authority in Great Britain that Canada must not be regarded as a dumping ground for undesirables of any kind.

It would be an act of kindness on the part of the authorities at Ottawa to allow this young man to remain at his work if he is making good and likely to go straight. If he has been employed since July, it surely has been possible for his employer or employers to form an opinion as to his fitness or otherwise for life in Canada. Many a good citizen of to-day, incidentally, may have a cloudy past.

THE PACIFIC COAST OUTLET

ALTHOUGH MR. BEATTY, THE President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, is of the opinion that the time is not ripe for his organization to consider a Pacific Coast outlet for the products of the region which the newly-acquired Alberta lines and proposed extensions will serve, he declared at Toronto on Saturday that the railway was building for the future.

The history of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is a long chapter of proof that it pays to build railways for the future in a new country such as this. Many people in Canada recall the ridicule which certain interests piled upon the heads of those nation builders who first conceived a line of railway pushing its way over and through the Rocky Mountains and on to the Pacific Coast. They went ahead with the project, the country supported it, and many of the doubters lived to see how completely they were confounded.

Mr. Beatty realizes that the great empire in the northern central section of the British Columbia-Alberta boundary is destined at no distant date to become a producer to an extent of which we can form only the haziest conception. It would not be surprising if the development which will take place as a result of the interest which the C.P.R. now has acquired does not persuade Mr. Beatty to consider the Pacific Coast outlet much earlier than now appears practical.

"TRIBUTE TO CAESAR"

JULIUS CAESAR HAS BEEN DEAD FOR these many centuries, but the world still pays tribute to him, according to the National Committee on Calendar Simplification at Washington.

The committee, composed of many prominent men in different walks of life, and headed by George Eastman, the Rochester camera manufacturer, points out that while Caesar was a good general and politician he was a terrible calendar maker. Julius Caesar, in 40 B. C., constructed the calendar we're using now.

Caesar took the Egyptian calendar, composed of twelve months of thirty days each, with five festival holidays at the end of the year, and mixed those five extra days into the months so they would run odd and even in length, because it was "lucky" to have odd numbers. He had one of these lucky months, July, his birth month, named after himself. In 28 B. C., the committee finds, Augustus Caesar named his birth month after himself, and in order to have the lucky thirty-one days in it, stole a day from February and tacked it onto his month, calling it August. Subsequently, to satisfy land-lords who complained that this made too many days in the third quarter of the year, he switched, Sept. 31 to Oct. 31 and, to keep the odd and even sequence, changed Nov. 31 to Dec. 31.

The committee asserts that the complex economic structure that modern progress has raised, in which accounting, statistics and comparisons count so vitally, our 2,000-year-old unequal-month calendar has become costly and clumsy. One proposed solution would give us thirteen months of twenty-eight days each, with the 365th day separated as a holiday and known as "Year Day" and observed as an extra Sabbath. "Leap Day" would be transferred to June 29 and also observed as a holiday. The months then, it is pointed out, would be steady and dependable.

The committee will embody its conclusions in a report to the secretary of state in connection with an international conference it is proposed to call to decide the calendar question. The inquiry seems to have many good points.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

ENGLAND AND FRANCE
The Boston Globe
News from Europe now stresses the point once more that the pact amounts to revival of the "Entente Cordiale." "England and France," we are told, "are moving in complete harmony as regards international policy." If that does not mean alliance, just what does? If it is not a pooling of naval and military resources which, potentially, is aimed at this country, the sooner that is made clear the better.

A THOUGHT

Be not righteous overmuch.—Eccl. vii. 16.
The ultimate notion of right is that which tends to the universal good.—Francis Hutcheson.

BRIDGE MADE EASY

by W.W. Wentworth

(Abbreviations: A—ace; K—king; Q—queen; J—jack; X—any card lower than 10.)

DECLARER'S STRATEGY

Another illustration of making a winning trick is by "throwing the lead." When you, as declarer, hold combinations of cards similar to Ace-Queen, additional tricks may be made if you can force second hand to lead up to you, rather than have third hand lead through you. This is deftly accomplished by the expert by playing a card from a suit that is sure to put second hand on the lead, so that second hand must lead up to the declarer. This manoeuvre is often utilized at the end of the game.

An illustration of stuffing, ruffing and finessing in actual play, hearts being trump, follows:

Dummy—spades A K Q; hearts 5 4 3 2; diamonds 5; clubs 9 8 7 6 3.

East—Declarer—spades J; hearts A Q J 8 7 6; diamonds A 4 3; clubs 5 4.

West—Leads diamonds K.

Declarer plans to win the campaign and takes with the Ace of diamonds. A grand slam may be made by ruffing declarer's small diamonds, shuffling declarer's clubs on the lead, so that second hand must lead up to the declarer. This manoeuvre is often utilized at the end of the game.

WORLD DAY FOR ANIMALS

To the Editor:—Will you kindly give publicity to the following request emanating from London:—

The fourth of October is to be a day dedicated to St. Francis of Assisi and known as a "World Day for Animals"—the object of this observance is threefold:

1. The direct attention to the wrongs inflicted on animals for "sport," commerce, amusement and (so-called) science.

2. To focus thought on the speediest means of abolishing such wrongs.

3. To inspire action on behalf of all suffering animals.

An earnest request is made to editors, journalists and speakers that they will give publicity to the observance of this event so that we may be induced to think, speak and act for suffering animals.

Thanking you for your support,

DOR KITTO.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, September 24, 1903.

Flags are half-masted on all the C.P.R. fleet in port to-day out of respect to the late Capt. Buddin, the deceased skipper of the new steamship Princess Victoria, whose remains were brought down to the city from Vancouver on that vessel last evening. The arrival of the dead and the knowledge that the late captain went up to Vancouver in the early morning in command of the ship, and apparently in good health, are facts which could hardly be reconciled.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Fresh to strong southerly winds, continued unsettled with showers.

G. E. Pooley, the Conservative candidate for Esquimalt, held a meeting last evening in the Lamson Street school. There was a very small attendance.

Mayor McCandless and Alderman Grahame yesterday paid a formal visit to Commodore Adigard and officers of the French cruiser Pretot. They were received most hospitably.

The tramway company are complaining of the check in their traffic which results from the cutting off of communication by the closing of the James Bay Bridge.

Arrangements have been completed for the entertainment of the touring members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association when they arrive in Victoria next week.

Every pound of the Dawson-bound freight over the W.P.&Y.R. will reach its destination before the close of navigation should that event be as late in coming this year as it was last year, according to word received from the North by the steamer Princess May this morning.

The plane trip saved a whole business day for travelers. Miss Jeanette Eckerhardt, first passenger, is shown handing her ticket to Agent Peterson at Chicago.

Oak Bay Golfer New "Hole-in-one Champ"

Louis York, well-known member of the Victoria Golf Club, has been created "Hole-in-one Champion of Vancouver Island" as a result of his feat on Saturday, when he brought his total of dodoes up to four. No golfer on the Island is known to have more than three holes-in-one to his credit, and this may apply to the entire Province.

He sunk his fourth tee-shot from the fourteenth at the Oak Bay links after driving the ball 181 yards while playing in a four-ball match with L. H. Hardie, J. V. Scrivener and A. H. Ford. He previously sunk tee shots twice at the Oak Bay links and once at Macaulay.

TWO KILLED IN CROSSING CRASH

Oregon City, Ore., Sept. 24.—A grade crossing accident near here Saturday cost two lives. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Crockett of Estacada were killed instantly when a Southern Pacific locomotive and caboose struck their automobile as they drove across the tracks at Clackamas.

FLIN FLON LINE NOW COMPLETED

Historic Ceremony Marks Finish of Manitoba and Northern Railway

The Pas, Man., Sept. 24.—Saturday, September 22, marks a historic milestone in the history of northern Manitoba.

At an informal but picturesque ceremony, Premier John Bracken of Manitoba drove in a golden spike which marked the completion of the Flin Flon, or, in formal terms, the Manitoba and Northern Railway, which is designed to aid in the development of the rich mineral deposits of the north country. The line runs from Cranberry Portage on the Hudson Bay Railway, north of The Pas, eighty-seven miles to the Flin Flon mine, which today is being developed at a cost of many millions of dollars.

After the ceremony, the golden spike, which bears the inscription, "The last spike driven in construction of the Manitoba and Northern Railway, opening up the mining district of northern Manitoba," was withdrawn and presented to Premier Bracken.

A picturesque group, mostly of the old-timers of the northern districts, witnessed the ceremony.

TRUSTEES GO TO PENTICTON

Paid Allowances For School Trustees Asked By Vancouver

Patriotism and Cost of School Books Also to Be Discussed

Island delegates to the Penticton convention of the School Trustees' Association of British Columbia are on their way to-day to the interior city, where they will join delegates from many communities of the Province in the annual parley on school affairs.

Trustees Alex. Peden and A. C. Pike, with Municipal Inspector George H. Desane, will represent Victoria city, while district school boards may also send delegates to the convention. An attendance of 250 trustees is anticipated at the gathering, which will have fifty-four resolutions before it for consideration. The business sessions open to-morrow and will continue Wednesday.

MINISTERS TO SPEAK

Delegates are to be welcomed by Reeve Kirkpatrick, and Trustee R. S. Wilton, chairman of the Penticton District School Board, will extend an official welcome to the delegates. Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, will address the trustees on Tuesday evening on educational matters.

Paid allowance for trustees on a basis comparative to council service; stricter quarantine regulations in school attendance; the teaching of patriotism in the schools; the price of school books to parents, and many other subjects are to be discussed.

Greater Vancouver trustees are out for annual allowances for the trusteeship, comparing the duties involved and the time taken by school business with that of the municipal councils. Greater Vancouver also wants the control of industrial school affairs transferred to the Department of Education, and the whole system of correction removed from police control.

Victoria delegates are to speak to the resolutions dealing with school book costs.

SIR HORACE DURWIN, NOTED SCIENTIST, DIED IN ENGLAND

Cambridge, Eng., Sept. 24.—Sir Horace Durwin, son of Charles R. Durwin, who wrote the "Origin of Species," died here Saturday. Sir Horace, who was himself noted as a scientist, had been in failing health for some months.

He had invented and constructed many seismological and aeronautic instruments.

Duthie Mine Is To Be Electrified

Smithers, B.C. (By Mail).—As a result of work to be started immediately and which will be carried on with all speed, the next few weeks will see operating conditions at Duthie Mine, on Hudson Bay Mountain at Smithers, completely revolutionized in the name of economy and wider, almost a doubled output from that mine which the profits in the past five months amounting to 15 per cent. The Interior News says.

The outstanding decision arrived at as the result of the recent conference between J. F. Duthie and Superintendent J. R. Turner is the plan to completely electrify the mine, to overcome the tremendous expense entailed in recent years in transporting many thousands of cords of wood up the mountain for the steam power, for which the mine is operated at present. Work on this scheme is already under way and next week will see the arrival of the first carload of new machinery for the conversion from steam to electricity.

Coming on top of this decision is the plan to move all camp buildings and the entire power plant from the top of the mountain to the flat at the bottom of the hill, and while this will destroy a scenic wonder in the camp tucked high in the hills, it will also overcome a huge outlay necessitated in hauling supplies up the steep grades. Several sites for the new power house are being considered and lumber and other construction material necessary in erecting the new camp will be rushed up the hill as fast as auto trucks can make the trip.

Buildings to be constructed at the foot of the hill include a new cook house, bunk house, office building, dry room, in addition to several new residences, the whole comprising a permanent camp far below the lofty crags of Hudson Bay Mountain. A large number of carpenters and laborers will be engaged in the task, which will be rushed to insure completion before the snow flies.

After careful consideration of immediate future development the Duthie Company has decided not to enter into any scheme for the utilization of hydro-electric power with a surplus for surrounding municipalities and mining developments. Instead the electric power will be generated by steam and transmitted up the hill. A generator of 500 k.w. hour capacity is now en route to the property. New boilers will also be installed, and by a system of relief from the present plant one of the boilers now in use will be brought down the hills and established in its new position. A new turbine engine is also en route to go into the service of generating power.

Superintendent J. R. Turner spent Monday in town on business connected with the reconstruction of the entire camp and revolutionizing the power plant at the mine. Asked as to the general result of recent development at depth he stated he would not be in a position to make any public announcements of that nature, but stated that the work was such as to more than justify the big expense involved. Mr. Turner did state however, that just as soon as the present programme could be completed, and possibly before the new camp was in full operation, a new ball mill unit would be added to the contentment to double the capacity of that plant. Space was provided in the original construction of the concentrator for additional ball mill units and crushing machinery installed at that time for double the capacity on which the mill has operated since being erected, and which has been sufficient to earn 15 per cent for shareholders. With a doubled output and operating costs greatly reduced by moving the entire camp down the hill, this rate of earning should be substantially increased.

A Great Fall Display of $20,000 Worth of New Oriental Rugs

Commences Tuesday, In Our Oriental Rug Department, Second Floor

Under the supervision of our expert, Mr. George Carter, has been assembled the wonderful collection that will be on view. Beautiful rugs from Persia, Turkey, Tientsin, India and other famous rug-making districts of the Orient.

In the Display Are the Following:

Several fine Old Mesheds in large size and of wonderful lustrous sheen. An opportunity to secure some of the fast disappearing original Oriental Rugs.

Birjandi Rugs—these are seldom seen on the open market. Wonderful original pieces in beautiful colors, reminiscent of flowers and bright-plumaged birds from the land of Omar Khayyam.

Bergamos, from Bergamos, Asia Minor, famed for centuries for rug weaving.

Karadjies, from a town in central Persia, where rugs are still made on the old looms. Mostly in Serapi design, in blue and rose, deep shades. Perfect sizes for dining-room, library or den, from 6.0x10.0 to 9.0x13.0.

Turko-Greek Rugs, lustrous, hand-tufted rugs, in extra large sizes, from 8.0x10.0 up to 10.0x22.0.

Also, a great selection of Mosuls, Shiraz, Mirzapours, Akbars, Belouchus, Doziers and others, of like popularity.

A great collection of Modern Antiques, ranging from 20 to 50 years old.

FALSHATS ARE CLOSE FITTING WITH TRICKY LINES

By Florence La Ganke

"Are the new hats becoming, Lola? I haven't had a chance to get down to try any of them on. Some of them look queer."

"I wouldn't call them queer, exactly, Nancy, but they are different. You know us Summer we had really sensible hats. They had brims and they shaded the eyes and protected the skin. Well, the Fall hats are smaller. Of course that is to be expected. They show the face more. I think. The brim is large, but cut to come down over the forehead. Sometimes the brim is so extreme as that one I showed you in the paper this morning."

"The best of the hat is off the face. There is no brim on the left side, as a rule. There may be a tricky crown"

Menus For the Family

By SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Bartlett pears, cereal, cream, creamed dried beef, pop-overs, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Baked hash, head lettuce with chutney dressing, blueberry muffins, milk, tea.

Dinner—Calf's heart stuffed with raisins, twice baked potatoes, fried eggplant, fruit salad with cream cheese balls, Washington cream pie, milk, coffee.

Creamed dried beef is quite delicious served in hot pop-overs. Cut the tops from the popovers, fill with the creamed mixture and replace tops. Serve with extra pop-overs.

BAKED HASH

Two cups left-over chopped meat, one cup chopped raw carrots, one cup chopped raw potatoes, two onions, salt and pepper, one cup milk, one-quarter cup buttered bread crumbs.

Put meat and vegetables, including onion, through food chopper. Mix thoroughly and season with salt and pepper. Put into a well-buttered baking dish and pour milk over. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake one hour in a slow oven. Serve from baking dish.

GREEN CORN GRIDDLE CAKES

Ten or twelve ears of sweet corn, one cup milk, two eggs, one teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar, three cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons melted butter.

Grate corn from cob. There should be about two cups. Beat eggs until light and beat in milk, sugar and salt. Mix and sift flour and baking powder and add to first mixture. Beat until smooth and add grated corn and melted butter. Beat hard and bake on a hot, lightly greased griddle.

The corn must be grated or a very thin slice cut from the tops of the kernels and the pulp scraped out.

which comes down fairly low almost to the eyebrow.

"They are all cut short and close fitting in the back. That is done because furs will be worn. To get away from the bare neck line it is still good style to wear a rather heavy necklace choker."

"The colors are browns and blacks. The material is still felt or that silky felt called soleil. There are not many plain nor glittering ornaments. There, Madame Page, I have given you a dissertation on hats. Now come on down with me and see whether I spoke the truth."

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

NOTHING SAFE ABOUT THE COUNTRY, SAY READERS

Not so long ago this writer had the temerity to suggest that city life was more dangerous than farm life, and it in the struggle with dangers the child developed. The farmer and his wife immediately flew to the defense of their environment and pointed out its numerous dangers in such detail that henceforth I shall be quite content to stay quietly in the safe city. The article grew out of an interest in discussion of teachers from all over the country in a class in "Here and Environment." The subject dealt with protected environments and their effect on the individual, and it was accepted that the farm was a "protected" environment. As far as I know there are no statistics on the comparative numbers of accidental deaths of children on farms and children in cities, with due regard to the differences of population. Until there are such opinions can only be just that, however, one may judge by appearances. My life has been spent in an agricultural community, but in a city not on a farm, though I have visited on farms enough to at least have an opinion of them. It is interesting to hear the other side and the letter published is typical of those received. All tremendously resented the imputation that farm life was safe. Mrs. E. B. writes: "I think you know a great deal about babies, but after reading your article on farm life, I believe your knowledge along that line is limited. So far as danger is concerned the city child does not begin to face the danger a farm child does. He plays in and out among cows and horses and around all kinds of dangerous machinery. Even the traffic is a serious danger for many thousands who live on well-travelled highways, traffic uncontrolled, terribly swift, often careless and reckless. Yet many thousands of children walk to school along these roads, not on sidewalks and across crossings protected by policemen, but in the quiet (?) country. "How many times have you read of children drowning in watering troughs, limbs broken in falls from loads of hay, or on concrete floors from a mower? Babies have been bitten, even killed, by pigs, kicked by horses, dragged in runaways. And these accidents are not entirely due to carelessness. Think of all the places the child is liable to climb may lead a child in the country. He certainly has greater opportunity to protect himself from a variety of dangers. It isn't what it used to be to live on a farm." Even after reading the above one feels that all these dangers of farm life seem more avoidable than the chances of accident or death which surround a child every place in a city. The vast machinery of civilization, cars, buses, elevators, subways, elevators, autos, the possible contacts with maniacs or degenerates, fires, explosions, all are multiplied the larger and more crowded the community. One can only conclude that life is dangerous, wherever one is, which is easily a safe and indisputable opinion.

FIFTY YEARS OLD: Certainly when British Columbia was in its swaddling clothes back in the 70's, visions of a great and fair Province were dreamed of—but how far short of reality were they!

The work of the Founders of The Brackman-Ker Milling Co. Ltd., had been nursed and developed, sometimes with many an anxious moment; yet determination never flagged and continued progress was the goal to be attained. To-day this sound organization with its 20 BRANCHES in as many Towns and Cities throughout British Columbia, continues to view with courage and confidence the coming years of business activity.

The "50 Years of Successful Service" just completed is a solid foundation for the progress and development of the Company's business in the next decade and the future years that are before us.

THE FUTURE LOOKS GOOD:

In the British Columbia that is to come it will be the aim and endeavor of the B & K Co. to maintain and build up the good-will and service that has given the Company the proud place it occupies in the business world today. Today—50 YEARS after that very small beginning in SAANICH in 1878 made possible by Cariboo Gold—THE BRACKMAN-KER MILLING CO., LTD. are celebrating their GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY. While a great achievement and something to be proud of, it carries with it a great obligation—the obligation of Duty and Service to our customers and friends—the Buying Public. They have depended on B & K over a long period of years and the same dependability—the same honorable and fair trading will continue to be the fundamental basis for that Success which is assured in the untrodden Future.

Baseball Thoroughbreds Get Whip

Giants Have Close Shave While Yankees And Athletics Win

Jackson's Single Gives New York 2-1 Victory Over Cincinnati; Joe Genewich Allows Only Five Hits But Was Lucky to Win; Cardinals Down Brooklyn 7-1; Yankees and Athletics Keep Step in American League, Former Defeating Cleveland 5-0 While Philadelphia Beat Out St. Louis 11-7

With the wire and pennant victory in full view, baseball thoroughbreds, responding gamely to the whip and spur, galloped down the major league stretch in a driving finish so hot and furious that even at this late stage the naked eye can not with certainty discount the winner.

Of the field of sixteen that started so confidently in the Spring, only four real contenders, four in each league, remain. The rest are also rans, more or less content to finish the race without undue effort and wait for the next to roll around.

The pennant struggle in each league has developed into a duel rather general.

In the National the fight lies between the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Giants, with the Chicago Cubs still mathematical contenders if nothing else. Only a game separates Bill McKechnie's club, in first place from the runner-up Giants, while the Cubs trail New York by 3 1/2 games.

YANKS FAVORITES

Two games ahead of the Philadelphia Athletics, their only rivals, the New York Yankees are favorites to win their third American League pennant in a row, but overwhelming favorites have been beaten before and the Athletics are not completely out of the running.

GIANTS SQUEEZE THROUGH

Yesterday the Giants had a close shave. They were carried fourteen innings before they could beat Cincinnati 2-1 in one of the fastest games of the season at the Polo Grounds. Joe Genewich, who came to the Giants from Boston with the reputation of being an "in-and-out" was very much "in" yesterday. He held the Reds to five hits and strangely enough was lucky to win. The game was finally won on Jackson's single in the fourteenth, scoring Lindstrom, who had singled.

The Cardinals met this Giant victory with one of their own, over Brooklyn, 7 to 1. Joe Haters held the Robins to three hits and the game really was decided as early as the third inning, when Jim Bottomley hit his thirtieth homer of the season over the right field fence with two on base.

The Yankees and Athletics kept step in the American League, the champions defeating Cleveland 5 to 0, while the Athletics were defeating St. Louis Browns 11 to 7.

HOYT PITCHES WELL

Walter Hoyt pitched his twentieth victory of the year for the Yankees, giving the Indians only four hits. The Yankees, on the other hand, pounded Joe Shauts for 11, two of which went to Babe Ruth, who has been in a terrible slump for a week. Ruth pulled up lame after running out a single in the eighth inning and had to retire. A four-run rally in the ninth gave the Athletics their victory over the Browns, three of them coming home on a homer by Jimmy Dykes.

The Chicago White Sox moved up to the fourth place with Washington by turning back the Senators in the first game of the series 8 to 3. At Detroit, Phil Page, Eastern League recruit, won his second straight major league victory when the Tigers beat Boston 4 to 1.

BUTCHART SHIELD WON BY ISLAND

Local Riflemen Defeat Mainlanders By 88 Points in Annual Competition

Match Shot Under "Kolorado" Conditions; Visitors Entertained at Dinner

Phenomenal scoring featured the annual match for the Butchart Shield shot at Healy's Ranges yesterday between teams representing the Mainland and the Island. The Island team compiled the extraordinary total of 1,136 points to the Mainland's 1,048, winning the shield by 88 points.

The match was shot under "Kolorado" conditions, ten shots each at 300, 500 and 600 yards. The high scoring is all the more remarkable because shooting conditions were not at all good, a heavy smoke making visibility very poor and there was also a very tricky fish-tail wind.

PRESENT SHIELD

Following the shooting the local riflemen entertained the Mainland visitors at the Dominion Hotel when thirty sat down to dinner. Lieut. Colonel G. E. Pearce, V.C. D.S.O., M.C. representing the G.O.C. presented the shield to the winners. Major F. Richardson, president of the District Rifle Association, occupied the chair and a very pleasant evening was spent. Special mention was made of all those who helped with the carrying out of the arrangements for the shoot in providing cars to transport the visitors to and from the range, markers, register keepers, range and boat officers.

COACHING WORKS WELL

The Island team tried out the Australian system of coaching, the men lying down in pairs and one man delivering all his shots while his partner spotted for him, and judging by the results the system more than proved its worth.

Indianapolis Win American Pennant

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 24.—Indianapolis won the American Association pennant for 1928 by defeating Toledo 1-0 in the twelfth inning of the first game of a doubleheader here yesterday. A double by Burris, followed by a sacrifice by Boone and a single by Connolly settled the contest.

It was the first pennant an Indianapolis team has won. The Association since 1917. Indianapolis will play Rochester in a series for the Little World's championship beginning next Wednesday.

Victoria Incogs Are Defeated By Mainland Eleven

Vancouver, Sept. 24.—In the fight for the provincial cricket title over the week-end, the Vancouver club eleven trimmed Victoria Incogs by an innings and twenty-nine runs. For the Mainland champions Browne played a dazzling innings for 157. Rivers, Barrie and Stroyan were most successful with the ball.

VICTOR AND VANQUISHED FOR U.S. GOLF TITLE

BOBBY JONES

T. PHILIP PERKINS

Wading through all opposition the one and only Bobby Jones captured his fourth United States amateur golf championship recently at Brue Burn course, West Newton, Mass., by defeating T. Philip Perkins, member of the English Walker Cup team, by the overwhelming score of 10 and 9. Perkins was expected to make a far better showing but was unable to stand up under the sizzling pace set by the master.

PLAYING SEASON IN N.H.L. WILL START NOVEMBER 15

Montreal, Sept. 24.—Unanimous adoption of amendments to the playoff and overtime rules were made at Saturday's meeting of the board of governors of the National Hockey League.

The playing season will open on November 15 and will be brought to a close on March 16.

By a new system for use in the post-season playoff series, the leaders of each division at the conclusion of the schedule will play a series of three out of five games, the winners to play in the Stanley Cup finals against a team which survives an elimination series between the second and third teams of both sections of the league.

This year, if the score is tied at the end of the third period, the teams will continue to play ten minutes overtime without changing ends at the five-minute interval and without a rest before the start of the extra time.

John Callahan, representing the Pittsburgh interests, stated that the Pirates would again operate in the Smoky City and that a team was now in the process of formation.

Representatives of the New York American Hockey Club, present at the meeting, asked waivers of six of their first string players, all of which were granted. The players in question are Billy Boucher, Shorty Green, Ken Randall, Jess Spring, Mickey Roach and Joe Simpson.

Two Local Course Records Are Smashed

Phil Taylor Negotiates Oak Bay Course in 65, While Young Bob Morrison Trots Around Uplands Links in 68; Taylor's Score Lowest Since Course Was Altered, While Morrison Cracks Record of 69 Set by Walter Gravlin; Morrison Misses a 69 on Next Round

Although the weather man was not kind yesterday the climatic conditions must have been just right for young Bob Morrison and Phil Taylor, two prominent Victoria golfers. These two went out and smashed two local course records. Taylor went around the tricky Oak Bay course in 65, which is the lowest score recorded since the course was altered. Playing at the Uplands Golf Club in the team match against the visiting Nanaimo golfers Morrison negotiated the eighteen-hole course in 68.

Morrison was right on his game and after setting up the record he went out in the afternoon and reeled off a 70. He missed a ten-foot putt on the last hole which would have given him a 69.

Morrison smashed the former record of 69 held by Walter Gravlin, the club professional. Morrison went out in 35 and back in 33.

His card follows:
Out 4 4 4 3 4 4 5 4 3—35
In 4 3 4 3 4 4 3 5—33

RIGHT ON HIS GAME

To tour the Oak Bay links in 65 under ideal weather conditions is the job of a master of the royal and ancient; but to string figures together so that they will not exceed that total when something approaching a gale is blowing in from the sea calls for the master's best. Phil Taylor, the genial professional of the Victoria Golf Club, accomplished this feat yesterday afternoon in a round of superlative shot-making. He was out in thirty-one and home in thirty-four. Here is his card:

Out 3 3 4 5 3 4 3 3—31
In 4 3 5 3 3 4 3 5—34
It will be noted that the card includes no less than ten threes, the first one to be chalked up being at the first hole, which is 435 yards and a par five. Phil was long and straight with his woods, while a striking feature of his round was unflinching accuracy with his mashie-niblick. On a number of greens, moreover, he required but one putt to get down.
Phil was playing in a four-ball match with Count Sussanet, L. C. Boyd and H. P. Hodges.

UPLANDS WIN FROM NANAIMO

Defeat Visiting Up-island Golfers By 45 Points in Interclub Match

The inter-club match between the Nanaimo Golf Club and the Uplands Golf Club, played yesterday at the Uplands Golf Club, resulted in a win for the latter by 45 points to 7 1/2 points. In the four-ball matches in the morning the results were Nanaimo 7 1/2, Uplands 2 1/2. In the singles in the afternoon Nanaimo only secured 10 points to 38 by Uplands.

OTTAWA NOW FAVORITES

Defeat Winnipeg 8-3 in First Game of Series For Coveted Mann Cup

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Ottawa Emmetts, Eastern Canada champions, defeated Winnipeg Wellingtons, Western Canada champions, in Saturday's Mann Cup lacrosse game at Lansdowne Park by a score of 8 to 3. By their victory the locals now rule favorite to capture the silverware which is emblematic of the Canadian lacrosse championship, as their play in the first of a three-game series gave them distinct advantage over the opponents.

Playing a superior game, particularly in the home territory, the Emmetts settled down after a shaky opening five minutes, and pressed home a relentless attack that was not allowed to wane until eight goals had been recorded on the Ottawa side of the score sheet. In mid-field the teams fought along on an equal basis, but in close to the net the Ottawa advantage was apparent and the Easterners capitalized opportunities where most needed.

The determined Rochester swept both games of a double-header from the Royals at Montreal yesterday as the veteran Herman Bell performed an iron man stunt and so finished their campaign one point ahead of the Buffalo Bisons by 5-0 to 3-0, the lowest percentage the first and second teams ever held in any league governed by organized baseball. This slender margin existed because Billy Southworth's club played four games fewer than Buffalo, winning two fewer, but losing two fewer for a virtual tie in games. The condition was brought about by the permanent postponement in August of two Rochester-Baltimore doubleheaders.

The Red Wings would have to win three of these games to defeat the Bisons and the complete Rochester schedule been played.

Tommy Armour Wins Tournament When Open Champ Slips

Former U.S. National Open Champion Hangs Up Score of 302 for Seventy-two Holes to Capture Invitation Tournament; Joe Kirkwood Misses Ten-foot Putt and Fails to Tie Armour; Johnny Farrell, Who Led in First Day's Play, Falls Away; Hagen Plays Poorly

Shinnecock Hills, Sept. 24.—Tommy Armour, of Washington, D.C., former national open champion, won the seventy-two hole invitation professional golf tournament at the National Golf links here yesterday. The present metropolitan open titleholder scored the last thirty-six holes yesterday in 154, which, with his 1 of Saturday, gave him a seventy-two-hole total of 302.

Joe Kirkwood, trick shot artist from Albany, Ga., missed ten-foot putt to tie Armour. That missed putt gave Kirkwood 303 and second place. Tied at 304 for third place were Bobby Chick-shank, of the Progress Club, and Billy Burke, of Port Chest

LOSES PRO TITLE

VINCENT RICHARDS

Professional tennis champion of the United States, who lost the world's title yesterday when he was defeated 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 by Karel Kozeluh of Czechoslovakia, pro champ of Europe. Kozeluh had previously won two matches from Richards on European courts.

Tennis Crown Is Won By Westerners After Great Duel

Chicago, Sept. 24.—After a sizzling duel with the Australian team, the Western team of George Lott and John Hennessey yesterday won the national inter-sectional tennis title on the turf courts of the Chicago Town and Tennis Club.

Hennessey won his singles match against Harry Hopman, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, but Lott was upset by the sturdy Australian net ace, Jack Crawford, in his singles, 3-6, 6-4, and the doubles match was the deciding factor, after a terrific fight, the Americans winning 1-6, 6-4, 12-10, clinching the championship. The deciding game in an attack of indignation in which he was struck in Atlantic City several months ago.

Famous Friend Of Sport Dies

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—William H. (Billy) Rocap, friend of sport and of countless sportsmen, died yesterday at his home in Merton, Pa. He succumbed to fever, a complication of an attack of indigestion in which he was stricken in Atlantic City several months ago.

Mr. Rocap was sixty-seven years of age.

SCORES ARE HIGHER

Scores yesterday were uniformly higher than in the first thirty-six holes Saturday. Armour started the 7 in second place. Johnny Farrell, local open champion, having led the field with 147 on the first day. Armour took a 77, four over par, yesterday morning, and then slipped badly on the first nine in the afternoon, taking 42. He rallied in great fashion on the final nine, however, taking 35, just enough to give him victory over Kirkwood.

In the field of twenty-five professionals Armour found arrayed against him such stars as Bill McKechnie, Walter Hagen, the British open champion, Gene Sarazen, Harry Cooper, Willie MacFarlane, Jack Hutchinson and Macdonald Smith.

FARRELL WAY OFF

Farrell was off his game yesterday, taking 81 and 80 to finish with 161. A stroke back of him came Milborn with Sarazen yet another step to the bad. Hagen never did find himself in this tournament although he showed improvement over his form in the first thirty-six holes when he took 40 and 80. Yesterday he shot a 78 in the morning, one of the best rounds of the day, but slipped in the afternoon, taking 78 and finishing in a tie with Henry Clui for ninth place with 31 MacFarlane played steady golf to end a total of 307 for fifth place.

ALBIE DAVIES GAINS A DRAW

Gains Even Break in Bout With Jackie Newman; Tim Keist Wins From Paro

A large crowd witnessed a programme presented by the Victoria Boxing Club at the Sons of Camia Hall on Saturday night.

None of the five bouts proved a knockout, but if Tim Keist is taken advantage of his opportunities, he would have put Danny Pastore away in the first round. As it was Pastore was practically out on his feet. Pastore is a much better fighter after four rounds, for in his bout with Keist he probably would have won the decision if the fight had been a four-rounder.

Danny rivalled Stoker McCormack's display against Dave Lewis in his great gameness, but he would have taken

Burnley Continues To Climb Upwards

Defeats Aston Villa Four to One and Rises Further in First Division of Old Country Football; Everton, League Champions, Lose Again, Huddersfield Getting Victory; Attendances Total 350,000

London, Sept. 24.—Soccer games in the English First Division Saturday brought about the further rise of Burnley and the continued fall of Everton, the league champions. Three hundred and fifty thousand people attended the eleven matches in the first division.

Burnley overplayed Aston Villa and actually had a lead of four goals to nil at the end of the first half through the scores of McCluggage (from a penalty), Devine, Boel, twice. The only scoring in the second half was contributed by Chester of the Villa team.

West Ham United took a lead on Manchester United in the initial half when Payne netted cleverly from a corner. After the interval, Shone registered for West Ham United and Tait for Manchester. Tait charged

Raylings into the goal for the tally. Cardiff City were three goals up at half time on Bury through the brilliant team work of Len Davies and Thriaway. Both of these players scored, and then Davies headed in from a fine centre by Thriaway. After half time

Ferguson scored a solo goal. Bury had only nine men on the finish.

PORTSMOUTH WINS

Portsmouth proved again that while they lose matches on tour, at home they are another team, by soundly beating Sunderland. They took a long lead in the first half through the goals of Irvine and Smith. Cook scored for Newcastle. The one goal by which Newcastle United-Leicester City put a spectacular effort by Huddersfield, who put the ball into the net from a free kick outside the penalty area.

The Liverpool-Leeds United struggle was the best demonstration of scientific play in the First Division. The two teams battled for forty-three minutes before Waincoat scored for Leeds. McDougall put in the equalizer two minutes later. There was no score in the second half.

Ruddersfield Town were one goal up at half time on Everton through Kelly's tally. Brown and Troup scored for Huddersfield after the rest and Smith for Everton.

A LOCAL DERBY

Sheffield United and Sheffield Wednesday staged a local Derby. This was the one hundred and fourteenth time they had met. The Wednesday won this time, their goals being scored by Allen and Hooper in the first half, and by Hooper, Allen and Hunter in the second half.

Gibson and Tunstall scored for the United.

Manchester City scored a popular win before a great home crowd over Arsenal. The City drew out into a lead in the first half through Tilson's two goals. Broadhurst bagged a couple after the interval, while Brain headed in from a rebound from the cross bar to save Arsenal from a whitewash. The cup holders had a terrible time at Birmingham, where the local team went on a scoring rampage, getting four goals through Bradford and Briggs, who each netted twice to which Blackburn Rovers made no reply.

FIRST WIN FOR BOLTON

Bolton Wanderers, when they defeated Derby County, rang up their first victory this season. The county were a weakened team through the absence of Whitehurst, who is a casualty, and Cooper, who was in the English League team which defeated the Irish League at Belfast. The Wanderers through Blackburn's two goals and one by Murphy were three up at half time, and there was no scoring in the second half.

Glasgow, Sept. 24 (Canadian Press Cable)—As a result of the defeat of Celtic and Third Lanark in Saturday's matches, in the First Division of the Scottish League, Rangers are now the only undefeated team in the string of clubs. They were matched against Raith Rovers and made a show of them, getting seven goals of which Fleming scored three. Celtic lost unexpectedly and heavily to St. Mirren, while Third Lanark were overwhelmed by Kilmarnock.

Dundee had their first win beating Falkirk at Brockville.

Queens Park through McLeish's goal returned a good victory at Cowdenbeath. Hair had five goals for Partick Thistle, who won from St. Johnstone, after losing two games in succession.

Fisherman Makes Splendid Catch At Brentwood Bay

Fifty-five grise and four salmon was the catch made by Norman McDonald at Brentwood Bay on Saturday afternoon. McDonald had a wonderful time and as quick as he dropped his line a fish was pulling on it.

The fish were running well over the week-end and catches of twenty and thirty fish were quite common.

VISITING BOWLERS IN ACTION

The cameraman caught the visiting New Zealand bowlers during an exciting match on the greens of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club. The visitors living up to their reputation, defeated the local artists.

ESQUIMALT, WESTS AND CITY WIN

One-sided Scores Feature Opening Soccer Games in First Division.

City Hand Saanich Thistles, Last Year's Champions, a 4-1 Drubbing

One-sided scores featured the opening soccer games Saturday in the First Division. Esquimalt handed the Five C's a 7-1 defeat at the Royal Athletic Park, the Victoria Wests accounted for the Westholmes 5-1 at Beacon Hill, while Victoria City took the Saanich Thistles, last year's champions, into camp by a 4-1 count at the new Burnside Park.

For opening games the brand of football was just so-so, but as the season progresses some good football should be witnessed.

Scoring two goals in the first ten minutes of the game the Wests found no trouble in disposing of the Westholmes at Beacon Hill.

Forcing the lead from the start the Wests took the lead on Stewart's goal. They followed this shortly after with another goal from the boot of Collins. The Westholmes carried the play to the other end of the field and forced a corner but were unable to score from the kick.

The Wests' third goal came when Robinson converted Jimmy Sherratt's centre from right wing. Before the first half ended Collins and Robinson had found the net for two more goals.

PLAY MORE EVEN

Play in the second half was more even with the Westholmes becoming more familiar with each other's play. The Westholmes were awarded a penalty for hands but Kelman boosted the ball over the bar. The City team were awarded another shortly after and Wes Harper made no mistake netting his team's lone score.

Oliver refereed and the teams were: Wests—B. Whyte, Thompson and S. Sherratt; Passmore, Peden and Popham; Collins, S. Robinson, A. Stewart, Mulcahy and Sherratt.

Westholmes—Bennett, Harper and Tuckwell; McNaughton, Rutland and Anderson; Kelman, Price, Sneddon, Russell and Green.

Fielding a strong team Victoria City vanquished the Saanich Thistles by a 4-1 score. On their play the City look like they have the team to beat this season.

At the opening of the game the Thistles were on the attack and came close to scoring several times. The City opened the scoring after a pretty combination play Darrel Bissell finding the net. The Thistles evened up the count just before half-time when Minnis drove a bullet shot past Bridges.

In the second half the Bissell brothers were prominent in the scoring for the City. Claude shooting two goals, and his brother Darrel, one. The City team showed up better in the second half and the Saanich backs were continually breaking up dangerous attacks.

The teams were as follows: Victoria City—T. Bridges; Margerson and Campbell; Bowman, Preston and Stoffer; Glancy, McBay, C. Bissell, D. Bissell and Green.

Saanich Thistles—Rogers; Crowe and Campbell; Miller, Viggers and Jim Crowe; D'Arcy, Essler, Southern, Minnis and Ewing.

In a game which at the start promised to be well contested, Esquimalt easily disposed of the Five C's. Both teams, in the Summer's heat, played rather slackly, and the class of football was not very good. "Near the end of the game Esquimalt were so much the better team that they took things very easy, and these tactics called forth rebukes from the spectators. One feature was the high quality of the young talent. Of these: Sweeney, the Esquimalt right fullback, played very well and showed that he had a very useful kick. Nicol and Burnett, on the forward line, also played well. Among the goal-scorers, Burnett, Watts and Banks, the centre and two insides, each bagged a brace, while Nicol completed the complement of seven. Eder Quantin, with, with a bit more luck, would have had at least three goals, saved his side from a shut-out. Barnswell, the youthful left half of the Five C's, played a good defensive game.

NETS OPENER

The first half had been under way only a few minutes when Burnett, taking advantage of some poor play by the Five C's, netted the ball for the first goal of the season. The churchmen rushed the ball to their opponents' goal area on the kick-off and Overton shot over the crossbar. For a time the Five C's did all the pressing. Then Esquimalt rallied and, after Nicol had tested the goalies with a tricky one, Watt hit the goalpost from close in. Banks scored on a sizzling drive. Then the Five C's made a great chance. The play was in the Esquimalt goal area. Quantin hit the crossbar and then McCann skied the rebound over the goal.

Then the Five C's goal was bombarded. Boyd, the Esquimalt centre half, almost scored on a long floater and Watt hit the goalpost a few seconds later. Goals Wiloughby picked Nicol's shot right from the toe of Watt and averted another goal. For the Five C's McCann skied the ball over, but in a general tussle following the goal kick Quantin scored. The half ended with the Five C's pressing. The second half was easily Esquimalt's. After Quantin had just missed scoring, Watt and Nicol found the net in quick succession. After Burnett had scored his second and Banks had just missed, the Five C's staged a great combination rush. Barnswell got the ball near his own goal, passed to Swan, who passed to McCann. McCann almost scored on a good dribble.

The churchmen then lost Overton, but Swan and Quantin both almost scored. The former hitting the upright, the latter missing with the goalie beaten. Banks' score was followed by Homer missing a penalty. Watts wound up the game by scoring after a good dribble.

The teams were as follows: Esquimalt—Chalmers, Sweeney, Homer, Boyd, De Costa, Stewart, John Watt, Burnett, Banks and Nicol.

Five C's—Wiloughby, Hood, Lloyd, Reg Shanks, Swan, Barnswell, Sutton, Phillips, Eder Quantin, McCann and Overton.

WALLACE AND FELIX TO MIX

Central Boxing Club Announces Five Bouts For Saturday's Card

A six-round battle between Leo Felix of Seattle and Gordon Wallace of Vancouver will be the feature on the Central Boxing Club's card for Saturday evening.

Local fans will remember the scrap Felix put up against Percy Lake, the fighting stock, who recently beat Tommy Fielding. He will have lots of opposition from Wallace, who has always proved a game fighter, and is known to Victorians as a result of his last encounter with Dave Lewis.

The card is as follows: Main event, 135 pounds, six rounds—Leo Felix vs. Gordon Wallace.

Semi-final, 124 pounds, six rounds—Roy Baber vs. Tim Kiest.

Special event, 118 rounds, four rounds—Tommy O'Connell vs. Albie Davis.

140 pounds, four rounds—Eddie McFadden vs. Chas. Bradshaw.

160 pounds, four rounds—Wesley Millett vs. Teddy Beales.

REGINA NOW LEAD LEAGUE

Defeat Winnipeg Tigers 31-0 in Inter-provincial Rugby League

Regina, Sept. 24.—Regina Roughriders are the undisputed leaders of the Inter-provincial Rugby League. On Saturday afternoon they beat the Winnipeg Tigers by 31 to 0.

It was soft for the local lads. From beginning to end they were much the better, and the visitors were never in the picture.

It was the second victory in succession for the Milne-Bennebohm combination, and they have proved conclusively that they are the strongest team in the league. Last week they hammered the Moose Jaw Maroons 24 to 2, and their 31 to 0 win over the Tigers gives them a scoring total of 55 points with only two scored against them.

The Roughriders presented a well balanced lineup.

Winnipeg, Sept. 24.—With Teasler, the big back field man, leading on the attack, well supported by his teammates, the St. John's Senior Rugby squad of Winnipeg, registered a 19 to 0 victory over the Moose Jaw Maroons in an inter-provincial league match at Wesley Park on Saturday afternoon.

British Seniors Defeat Canadians

Jasper Park, Alta., Sept. 24.—The visiting British senior golfers Saturday defeated the Western Canadian seniors, under the captaincy of H. Milton Martin, honorary president of the Western Canada Golf Association.

The Canadians team was composed of Mr. Martin, T. Dickson, A. Donley, J. Ramsay, H. M. E. Evans, all of Edmonton, and K. C. Allen of Winnipeg.

MANUSH GAINS IN CLOSE RACE

Crashed Out Four Singles Yesterday to Jump Three Points Ahead of Goslin

With both National League contenders idle, the race for the American League batting championship held fan interest yesterday. Heinie Manush responded with four singles against Rube Walberg and Eddie Rommel at St. Louis yesterday, although the Athletics trimmed the Browns by 11 to 7.

Goose Goslin got two out of four, but this was insufficient to hold him even with Manush's torrid pace.

Heinie broke a virtual tie with the Gooses by dashing three full points upward to 375 while the Washington star was advancing one notch to 373. Lou Gehrig broke his slump to the extent of a double and a triple in Cleveland and so gained a point to 369.

George Scroth Is Winner of Annual Golden Gate Swim

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—George Scroth, husky Olympic Club swimmer, won the fourth annual Golden Gate swim sponsored by the San Francisco Chronicle when he negotiated the mile and one-sixteenth stretch yesterday in 56 minutes and 37 seconds.

Scroth, a member of this year's American Olympic games water polo team, took the lead from the start and finished twenty-five yards ahead of Carl Stevenson, another Olympic Club man, who won the event in 1926. Stevenson's time was 57 minutes flat.

Two Helens Lead In Golf Tourney

Cascades Golf Club, Hot Springs, Va., Sept. 24.—Two Helens started the thirty-second championship to-day when Miss Helen Paget of Ottawa, Ont., and Miss Helen Hicks of New York led the field of more than one hundred women golfers out of the eighteen-hole qualifying test to determine the thirty-two survivors for match play beginning to-morrow morning.

Karel Kozeluh Defeats Richards For Pro Title

New York, Sept. 24.—Karel Kozeluh of Czechoslovakia, professional tennis champion of Europe, won the world's title yesterday by defeating Vincent Richards, American pro king, for the third straight time. The scores were 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4. About 3,000 saw the contest.

The title went to Kozeluh when yesterday's victory, coupled with two straight conquests on European courts, gave him the three wins and precluded any chance of Richards' winning the five-game contest.

Corinne Griffith Has Stirring Role In "Garden of Eden"

Charles Ray in Supporting Cast for Star at Fine Dominion Film Presentation

"The Garden of Eden," one of the most successful plays of the season in London, Berlin, and in New York, will open to-day at the Dominion Theatre for a three-day run, with Corinne Griffith in the stellar role; and it was due entirely to Miss Griffith's foresight that this popular hit reached the silver sheet almost simultaneously with its stage version.

When abroad last Summer the star saw the play in Germany and approved it so heartily that the rights were immediately obtained. Thus Miss Griffith was well into production with her picture before the play had been produced in London or New York.

Her supporting cast contains such names as Charles Ray, Louise Dresser, Lowell Sherman, Edward Martindel, Maude George and Hank Mann. The star takes the part of Toni Lebrun, a proud, unsophisticated little singer in a Budapest cafe, who enters society at Monte Carlo as the "daughter" of a Baroness, and who exits haughtily from her own wedding to a wealthy and socially prominent youth, clad only in unmentionables.

Lewis Milestone, remembered for his side-splitting "Two Arabian Knights," directed the production, which Hans Kraly adapted to the screen. The picture is Corinne Griffith's first production for United Artists.

"French Dressing" Fast Comedy At Playhouse Now

Warner Comedy With Lois Wilson, Makes Hit

After specializing for several years in drama, H. B. Warner is again back to his first love, comedy-drama, in "French Dressing," which opens at the Playhouse Theatre to-day.

Warner made his big success on the stage in comedy-drama, and his famous work in "Alias Jimmy Valentine" is still one of the classics of the spoken stage.

In "French Dressing" he plays the role of a Boston husband with a cold, prim little wife. Due to a misunderstanding, she goes to Paris to get a divorce—and there she really begins to live, much to his amazement and delight. The only trouble is that she begins to step too fast for him.

Lois Wilson is the wife, while Clive Brook and Lilyan Tashman give excellent performances in important roles. This is an Allan Dwan production, made by Robert Kane for First National.

"Secret Orders" Is War Story Of High Daring

Work of Secret Service Agent Supplies Thrills at Columbia

A thrill with romance and potent in its delineation of those perilous days of the war, "Secret Orders," starring Evelyn Brent, is now being shown at the Columbia Theatre.

Martin Justice's fine story adapted by J. Grubb Alexander, gives Miss Brent the best role she has ever had in the opinion of Hollywood critics; and the star has certainly never been so well supported as she is with Robert Frazer as her leading man and a cast which includes Marjorie Bonner, Harold Goodwin, John Gough, Brandon Hurst and Frank Leigh.

Chet Withey directed the picture, and with the materials he had to work with has turned out a melodrama spectacular in the extreme.

Miss Brent's work as the little secret service agent is nothing short of mar-

William Haines, who came to the academy from Hollywood to enact cadets in Haines's new starring vehicle, "West Point," showing on the screen. According to Major Moses, a member of the West Point instruction staff, the group of actors proved absolutely good material for military training at the school.

"All of them, including Haines," he said, "had some military experience but still it was amazing how they grasped every detail of intricate drill, and were able to appear in the maneuvers along with regular cadets after single rehearsals. Of course actors are used to learning movements and action fast, but at the same time it was astounding to the officers."

Jaxon Players And Screen Bill Now at Coliseum

Colleen Moore In "Oh Kay," Feature Film At Capitol

Popular Star Takes to a Life on the Ocean Wave for Her
New Picture; Vaudeville Attractions

When Colleen Moore returned from location, where ocean scenes were filmed for her new first National picture, "Oh Kay," at the Capitol Theatre to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday, she was pronounced by her fellow players to be a first class able seaman.

A decidedly nautical atmosphere was supplied by the scenario for several episodes of this humorous screen story, in which the vivacious Colleen made numerous scenes aboard an old wind-jammer, rowed a skiff, and even acted as skipper and crew of a fast little sloop. The sloop, a star-boat, racing type, captured the enthusiastic interest of Colleen, who went sailing in the sporty little craft whenever she was needed before the cameras. She confessed that she found handling main-sheet, jib and tiller all at one time was a better suited to a person with four arms, but she was fascinated by the sport. She gives promise of becoming an expert sailor thanks to the tutelage of her producer, John McCormick, a former naval officer.

As soon as camera work was completed on location near Santa Barbara,

Miss Moore and the cast and production staff filming "Oh Kay!" went aboard a sailing vessel and cruised in the waters around Catalina Island for other scenes, which include the episode in which Colleen displays her prowess in a little sailboat. Mervyn LeRoy directed "Oh Kay!" from the scenario prepared by Carey Wilson. The supporting cast is composed of Lawrence Gray, Alan Hale, Ford Sterling, Claude Gillingwater, Julianne Johnston, Edgar Norton and others.

On the stage for this week are Sandberg and Fox, the well-known comedy dancing team; Peggy and Vincent, a singing act that is really different, and a special engagement of Fred Stone, the famous tenor soloist from Ireland, in song selections. The Capitol concert orchestra and Harold Bechtel, the singing announcer, will complete the bill of vaudeville.

"The Gay Retreat" Variety Showing Starting To-day

Hilarious Adventures of Three War Comrades Told in Film

"The Gay Retreat" is the happy title of Fox Film's war comedy, now showing at the Variety Theatre. And the story is just what the title suggests—a hilarious picturization of the adventures of three chaps who start out with the wrong outfit, and who go through the entire war in the same condition. The plot is unique, the situations novel and the cast exceptional.

Holmes Herbert returns to comedy to be the father of the handsome young hero, Gene Cameron. Sammy Cohen and Ted McNamara of "What Price Glory" fame are teamed together again as buck privates far behind the rear

"Bits and Pieces" George Robey's Vehicle Here

Famous British Comedian On Way to Royal Victoria
Theatre

After playing steadily in England, mostly in London for nearly two score years, George Robey, England's greatest comedian, is tripping about the world. He comes to the Royal on Monday, October 1, for one week with "Bits and Pieces," his latest and most successful show, and heretofore in London as better than the celebrated "Ding Dong" of wags.

The show is all George Robey's except for a couple of sketches which have been written by one of London's leading playwrights, and Mr. Robey calls it an invention. It is a revue which reminds one of the old-time music hall, but its scenes and specialties and chatter are up-to-date and as smart as this bright soul might be expected to have them.

Opening with a gypsy scene, the gypsy king, Mr. Robey, is seen dreaming. His happy dream is unfolded as the show the follows. Gypsy singers in solo and chorus charm for a moment, and are succeeded by musical moments that make the audience roar. Acrobats do spectacular stunts, the Hippodrome Eight does some magnificent dances, girls sing, Miss Marie Blanche, Mr. Robey's leading woman, sings and plays the violin, and in between and hovering over all is the screamingly funny comedy of which Mr. Robey is master.

With Miss Blanche, he keeps the audience in high good humor, and the pair of them display remarkable versatility in work and dress.

"Bits and Pieces" has been seen in South Africa, has had a run of six months in London, and several more months in the provinces, and in its present lively and attractive form is being shown from Montreal to Vancouver. For the second half of the week Mr. Robey will present "Between Ourselves," another of his inventions. It will be shown first here, goes to London for six months, and then goes on to Africa. A lively life for a player with forty years of playing the boards behind him! And he turns a cartwheel just to show how very boyish he still is!

Colwood

Colwood, Sept. 24—Wednesday evening last the members of the Colwood Women's Institute entertained the Victoria, Langford, Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institutes at an enjoyable dance and card party in Colwood Hall. The primary object of the entertainment was the celebration of the winning of the Savory Silver Cup, donated by Mrs. W. J. Savory of Victoria, and won for the third time in succession by the Colwood Women's Institute for the best institute exhibit at the Willows Fair.

In the course of her remarks while congratulating the members of the Colwood Women's Institute on their efforts and their application to the work in hand during the assembling of the exhibit, Miss Kelly, president, Colwood's Women's Institute, said that she felt honored to be the head of such an organization and hoped that their efforts would remain as keen in the future.

Mrs. J. L. Brown, president Langford Women's Institute; Mrs. A. Peden, president Victoria Women's Institute, and Mrs. R. Brown, president of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute, extended greetings from their institutes.

Mrs. Frank Campbell, president Island District Board of Women's Institutes, stated Mrs. Savory had signified her intention of donating another silver cup for competition, to replace the cup already won by the Colwood Women's Institute.

For the occasion the hall had been artistically decorated with evergreens and massive bouquets of chrysanthemums in the pastel shades. The guests were received by Miss Kelly, Mrs. A. S. Burgess and Mrs. W. M. Brown. Those responsible for the decoration of the hall were Mesdames C. Goodall, E. Shields and J. Goodall.

Excellent music was provided for the dancing by the Melodious Orchestra of Victoria, the duties of master of ceremonies were ably performed by Vic. Green.

The winners at bridge and five hundred were Mrs. Cowie of Langford, and Mr. Lowe of Happy Valley, while the consolation was awarded to Messrs. Bickford and Murray of Colwood.

During the evening the drawing took place for the comforter made by the Colwood Women's Institute, the winner being Mrs. Riddle of Victoria, holding ticket No. 50. The secretary requests Mrs. Riddle telephones Belmont 23.

At the conclusion of the evening refreshments were served, the convener of refreshments being Mrs. H. Parker, Brown, W. N. Brown, Bruce, Morrow, Goodsell, Bartle and many others.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the council of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service will be held in Colwood Hall Tuesday evening, September 25, at 8.15. Each member is specially requested to be present, as arrangements will be made for the annual meeting to be held next month.

The first dance of the season arranged by the Colwood Hall committee, will be held in Colwood Hall next Wednesday evening. Excellent music will be supplied for dancing, and there will be cards for non-dancers. No admission charge will be made for this opening dance of the season.

Brentwood

Brentwood, Sept. 24—Mr. and Mrs. J. Sinclair have returned to their home in Victoria, after spending the Summer months at their cottage.

ROGERS—HE PAYS $16 BOARD

Declares He Won't Marry for Twelve Years More; Lives College Life Both On and Off the Movie Lot

By DAN THOMAS

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 24.—He's already one of the brightest stars to be found in the cinema heavens. And his fan mail exceeds that of any other man in Hollywood.

But Charles "Buddy" Rogers still lives in a small, unpretentious home—the home of Dean Rogers, one of his fraternity brothers at the University of Kansas. He pays $16 a week for room, board, laundry and a kennel for his police dog, Baron. In that respect he differs from fully ninety-five per cent of film folk. Their first act, after tasting success, is to move into a mansion and buy an expensive automobile. Buddy has an expensive car, but it is his only luxury.

Buddy probably is the most marriageable prospect among Hollywood's men—and the best looking. But he declares that he will not march up to the altar before he is thirty-five. He is twenty-three now.

"I much prefer living with Dean and his mother and sister than to live in a

Charles "Buddy" Rogers... says he'll not marry until he is thirty-five big show place," says Rogers. "Dean and I were fraternity brothers at college and we went to Europe together on a mule boat one Summer, so we are pretty close friends. His mother thinks almost as much of me as my own mother does. And Elva is just like a sister."

"Dean and I still go out and visit the fellows at our fraternity house at the University of Southern California and we go to all of the fraternity dances, so I really enjoy both movie and college life."

Young Rogers looks more like a college boy than he does a film star—and off the set he acts more like one too. When not working, he is often in old clothes, with his dog at his heels.

Incidentally, Buddy's next film, "Just Twenty-one," will be a college story—but it will deal with a girls' school.

The story is based on "The Charm School," which Wally Reid, Theodore Roberts and Lila Lee made years ago. It was one of Reid's most popular films.

COWBOY TITLE GOES TO NEW MEXICO MAN

Pendleton, Ore., Sept. 24.—The $4,500 Theodore Roosevelt trophy, emblematic of the world's champion all-around cowboy will from now on rest permanently in Kenna, N.M.

Bob Crosby of that city, champion in 1925 and 1927, carried off the honors at the annual Pendleton round-up this year in a thrilling steer roping contest in which he was never headed for three days.

Thirty thousand spectators watched

Luxton

Luxton, Sept. 24.—The opening dance for the Winter season under the auspices of the Luxton Hall committee will be held in Luxton Hall on Friday evening, October 5, dancing 9 to 1.

A new and valuable convenience to the hall is the installation of electric light. This convenience has only just been made available by the new B.C.

Electric line to the Luxton and Happy Valley districts.

Len Acre's orchestra will be in attendance on October 5. Refreshments will be served.

A series of friendly games of basketball between the teams of the various schools in this and adjacent districts are now being arranged, the first taking place Wednesday next at the Happy Valley school grounds at 3.30 p.m.

Mrs. Thos. Madders has returned to her home on the Glen Lake Road, after an absence of some weeks. Mrs. Madders is at present at Cowichan Lake.

Miss Evelyn Smith has returned home after a holiday up the Island.

PATHE REVIEW

All the artistry of Simmons is shown in the bed featured—gracefully shaped legs and posts—shaped bottom rail and rounded top. Ask to see the "Tudor" design (No. 240).

The finest looking beds you can buy

MANY a woman never thought metal beds possible in her daintily furnished bedrooms until Simmons produced these exquisite Period designs.

See them now at your furniture dealers—study them for line, form, composition, colour—see how Simmons has embodied in them the finest of everything.

Ask your dealer to show you the Simmons catalogue and see for yourself the wide range of colours and wood finishes available in a variety of designs to suit every taste and purse.

Simmons Beds offer a Sleeping quality far beyond anything you have ever known with old style wooden beds. Firm, steady, noiseless—never a squeak or rattle—inviting deep sound sleep.

The Chateau Bed (Design No. 70) is simple in outline and will harmonize with almost any furniture.

Early American craftsmen created this Windsor bed. Simmons have perfected it in metal. (Design No. 104).

Napoleon Design (No. 245). Adapted from the most famous design of the Napoleonic period. Simple in line and beautiful in finish.

RADIO FROWNS AT SPIRITED STARS

Temperamental Prima Donnas Make It Difficult to Broadcast Their Songs Without a Flaw

Two prima donnas who can't afford to be temperamental when they face the microphone are Jessica Dragonette, above, and Devora Nadworney, in inset. They're stars of many NBC network programmes.

It is a popular tradition that great prima donnas are among the most temperamental people. In a radio studio, to indulge their whims would be ruinous. Yet there still is a mild form of temperamental authority as the artist comes upon the scene.

The Victor Hour, through WJZ and stations associated with the NBC blue network, employs many famous prima donnas. How they are "handled," to assure a successful evening, is an interesting sidelight on radio broadcasting.

In fifteen minutes the Victor presentation will go on the air. Galli-Curci, the star of the evening, has not yet appeared. Downstairs, the reception committee is beginning to look worried, but when she finally arrives she is completely surrounded and escorted to a private room adjoining the studio.

Here she dictates her orders: water should be supplied, flowers are necessary for atmosphere, music sheets should be handed to her in order, and so on.

SPECTATORS ARE BARRED
Now she enters the studio. She looks around, and everybody sighs with relief as Galli-Curci smiles graciously. Her every wish has been gratified.

On three sides of the studio are rooms with large windows through which visitors may view the broadcasting. But now Galli-Curci is in an uproar. How can she sing with people staring at her? The curtains are drawn and Galli-Curci is appeased. The programme continues.

At another Victor Hour Rosa Ponselle is being escorted from her room to the studio. As she is about to step into the hall, she spies some men smoking. She jumps back quickly. How do they expect her to sing at that time?

The men are asked to smoke elsewhere. Then Miss Ponselle tips-toes out and, as the smoke still hovers in the air, she covers her nose with two handkerchiefs.

Miss Ponselle is informed that gentlemen of the press are outside. Would she be kind enough to give them a few minutes? And she steps out into a smoke-filled room and willingly poses and chats until she is called back.

But there are prima donnas who know the value to themselves in curbing their temperamental while broadcasting. These are the veterans, such as Devora Nadworney and Jessica Dragonette. Miss Nadworney was the first person to sing over a network hookup. That was in 1923.

"At my first broadcast, I thought everything was going wrong," she says. "I raised my voice at every little detail. This kept me in a worried state and naturally I couldn't sing at my best."

But the more I appeared before the microphone the more I learned that everything was being done for my benefit. If I displayed any temperamental, so that I couldn't afford very well to go off the handle."

POOR PERFORMANCE RESULTS
Jessica Dragonette, lyric soprano, occupied a distinctive place in the musical comedy world before leaving it for the radio field. She, too, believes that temperamental is out of place in a radio artist's repertoire.

It is true that concert prima donnas who sing over the radio must be handled carefully. That is because they seldom face the microphone and do not realize that their temperamental serves only to aggravate themselves.

"I remember one who was terribly upset at the number of people in the studio. But it was too late to ask them to leave and when she sang she kept glaring at them. This took her mind from her work and spoiled her performance."

"I have noticed that when I get in a temper, I give a poor performance. I have just come from a six-hour rehearsal and neither I nor any of the other artists showed a sign of temperamental. We know better."

Okalta No. 1 diamond drilling will start Monday. No. 2 is now down 800 feet. McLeod No. 4 now have on 350 lbs. back pressure, yielding in the neighborhood of 100 barrels a day. They will increase back pressure at the end of the month to 600 lbs. Royaltie No. 9 is pulling out tools and making test of production. Dalhousie No. 6 and Spooner One, no change. This year's Royal Academy' contain exhibits executed by twenty-one London teachers.

ACCOMMODATION FOR VISITORS

FOR THE WINTER MONTHS WILL probably command good prices this season. We have a very large house on the waterfront at the corner of the waterfront, with a view of the harbor and a few acres of grounds, that leads itself very well as a guest house. A few hundred dollars will put it in excellent shape. Next summer it would make a fine auto camp. We will sell this at a very low price and on very easy terms. See us about this. It is vacant now.

STOCK MARKETS — FINANCIAL NEWS — GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)
(Leased Wire)

Winnipeg, Sept. 24.—Wheat: The wheat market was nervous and very erratic to-day, but trade volume was not large and was mostly local, there being very little export buying in evidence. Opening prices were half to one cent lower, but the market reacted quickly with commission houses taking some and prices climbed to about one cent over Saturday's close, only to lose the whole of the gain later, but prices gradually climbed again to the earlier high marks, but again eased off.

Offerings were not as large as expected. The chief feature to the market these days is that while movement from the country is very large, the farmers are not selling and are showing a holding tendency. In the cash market there was a fair demand from shippers with offerings light, and spreads were unchanged, the top grades but slightly easier on the lower grades. Exporters reported a good demand late Saturday but nothing doing this morning.

Shipments from the head of the lakes have been running over 2,000,000 bushels daily and it is believed that foreigners are taking more wheat than is being reported. World shipments last week totaled 15,806,000 bushels, of which North America shipped 11,550,000. Despite these liberal clearances on passage supplies decreased slightly over 2,000,000 bushels, country marketing in Western Canada Saturday totaled 8,636,340 bushels as compared with 2,317,655 the corresponding day a year ago. Inspections here on Saturday and Sunday were 4,599 cars wheat of which 2,760 graded No. 4 or better.

The U.S. wheat visible increased 7,500,000 bushels and how stands at 103,382,000 or 27,000,000 larger than last year at this time. The Canadian visible increased 2,462,000 bushels, but these figures do not include country elevator stocks or stocks in transit, rail or lake. The market acts very stubborn but we believe wheat is a sale on the upturns. Winnipeg futures closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower on the three nearby months, but unchanged for May.

Coarse grains—There was a fair business passing in barley and rye, but the offerings were larger than could be absorbed and both markets were easier. There was very little doing in oats, the market being featureless. Oats visible was about unchanged, barley increased 873,000 and rye 477,000 bushels. Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower, barley 1/4 to 1/2 lower and rye 1/4 to 1/2 lower for October and 3/4 higher for May.

Wheat—Continues dull with demand very ordinary. Closing prices 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)
New York, Sept. 24.—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

"With the prospect for a further decline in the call money rates early this week, and with trade developments in copper, oil and steel pointing to better business in the latter portion of the year, there was enjoyed in the past six months, complied with entirely satisfactory stock market action. I believe that the early part of the week will amply justify the recommendation which was made to hold stocks over week-end or to buy them in anticipation of higher prices this week.

"Anacoda has established a new top and is going higher, in fact rather definitely headed for 100 and consequently still cheap while available below 85 copper metal in near future will be established at 15 1/2 cents per pound, which means prospects for this issue next year should be not far from $10 per share.

"In the oil group you can add Skelly Oil to the list. Skelly is one of the very few independent oil companies which is demonstrating its ability to continue its dividend, even though the past two years of oil depression.

"American Can was mentioned as the stock which would be brought forward by General Motors. Since hesitation has come into the motors I look for Can to assume its leadership in the early part of the week and for it to record a new high just as General Motors did in the past week. Among specialties I continue to favor Timken Roller Bearing and Lambert.

"In the rail group, Can. Pacific, C.O.W. Pfd., Erie on Mo. Pacific, C.F.I. is ready to advance readily coincident with a rail buying programme which is estimated to exceed by approximately 250,000 tons, a similar programme of last year, and an advance of $2 per ton in steel rail bars, which is expected to be announced early this week.

Calcutta Luck

A Thrilling Story of Fate and the Famous Sweepstake

By E. C. BULEY

"Do you mind telling us who this old friend of your husband is, Mrs. Franklin? A statement from him..."

"Until he is ready with his proofs, he prefers to remain silent," Dickey said readily. "That is only natural. It is not? I can only say that I am quite convinced that Allen Franklin is still alive; and that when the full story is told, you will understand why I am so positive."

"You may add from me," Dolf said impressively, "that my colt will run, and win the race. Is there anything more?"

Obviously there was no more to be said. A rush of pressmen to the telephone followed, and their gleaming, published with all due reserve, were on sale in the streets as Blake hurried to Joan Kennett's office.

"Parachute Mystery," he read; and again—"Amazing Derby Situation." But The Evening Budget, gambling on Mr. Kennedy's inside information, came out boldly with a placard: "Parachute to Run," thereby scoring effectively. Blake was shown into Joan's office by a wondering Linda, and was astounded to see Joan stretch out her hands to him in supplication.

"Can you ever forgive me, John?" she faltered.

"Most certainly I can," John assured her. "But for what?"

"I... I... You see I thought that you were Allen Franklin..."

"You thought I was... what?"

"I imagined it was your own story you were telling me. I don't know how I could have made such an idiotic mistake. I can see now what a perfect fool I must have been. Oh, John, don't look at me like that!"

Once more Linda, wondering what was taking place within, was disturbed and shocked by the sound of wild, maniacal laughter from the sanctum, devoted strictly to business. If Linda had a fault, as Joan remarked afterwards, it was that she was inclined to be just a little officious. Her employer overlooked the fact that it required some courage to act as she did, and that the motive was devotion of the purest kind. For, as the uncanny laughter continued to sound in unrestrained bursts, Linda decided to go to Joan's assistance. Throwing open the door, she discovered Miss Kennett seated upon the knee of the handsome and bronzed stranger, thumping him on the back, while she laughed weakly herself.

"Be quiet, John, Joan was saying, 'Stop it, or you'll have my secretary coming in to see what is happening.'"

"Ha, ha, ha! Yes," John agreed. "Here she is, all right."

"There now," Joan said weakly. "I'll never be able to look her in the face again. And I don't see that it is so very funny, either. But most men would have been simply furious, instead of laughing."

"So you thought I had slain my man with a champagne bottle?"

"It seemed so awful for you," Joan murmured.

"And that I was calmly proposing to divorce dainty Dickey, after deserting her most shamefully, in order to marry you?"

"You only got as far as the divorce," Joan reminded him.

"But for all that," John said, growling seriously for a moment. "You were Joan grey rosy red, guessing rightly at what he left unsaid."

"I couldn't help myself," she said. "And I am glad that I couldn't. Because something told me that you were what you are, John, and not what poor Mr. Franklin was. I listened to that something, you see, and I was right, wasn't I?"

John began to laugh again, but in a more subdued fashion.

"So you thought I was trying to get my price, for returning from the grave?" he said. "I mean, when we were saying good-bye in the train."

"That was the most shameful thing of all," Joan confessed. "I could hardly believe my ears; and I was wretched about it, until I saw The Morning-day. Then I saw, of course, that John Blake and Allen Franklin must be two different persons."

"Well," John suggested, "suppose we take up business where we broke off, when you were in the train. You see, I cabled to Franklin, hinting something of what I proposed to you. And here we have his answer."

He displayed Franklin's cable, and Joan at once pounced upon the signature.

"The poor man; he's intending to face the coming enemies," she said. "I hoped he would. Of course I'll be glad to share anything that may come to me with a man who behaves like that."

"Well, I must see this trainer at once," John said. "He seems to be the person with whom such an arrangement on Franklin's behalf should be made. What share shall I say?"

"A half?" Joan suggested. "That was what I thought."

"My dear child!" Blake remonstrated. "Gordon was talking of paying you $20,000 for a half share; and he'll probably make much an offer. Will you allow me to make some more modest arrangement with Parachute's trainer?"

"What do you think best," Joan said. "All this talk about money seems more unreal to me now than it did when I first learned of my good fortune. I don't seem able to realize that there is really an immense sum of money concerned; I only think of it as the stroke of luck which gave me you, John."

"Hark to the business woman!" John remarked. "A mere trifle of $20,000 must not occupy her attention when she is engaged upon more important affairs. All the same, I must look after the pounds, shillings and pence. I'll just ring up Gordon, and find out about this man who trains Parachute."

Parachute, it seemed, had already been sent to Epson in charge of his trainer, Conran, and was to be found at the stables known as Mottram's.

"How are things going?" Gordon asked eagerly. "The newspapers publish what Masters had to say, but nobody seems to believe a word of it. Is that he is bluffing for time?"

"Things are going well," John replied. "I'd like to see you when I come back from Epson."

"Come straight to my flat," Gordon requested. "We shall all be there, I expect; Masters and Dickey; and Waring as well. Do you mind?"

"Not if Waring doesn't," John said. "After I've seen you I shall probably look in at The Morning to put things right there. Until this evening."

"You seem to have such a lot to do," Joan sighed. "I suppose I shall not see you again until to-morrow?"

"When I have finished with The Morning people," John arranged. "I'll call for you, and we'll go somewhere for late dinner and a dance or two. And while I'm at Epson, I mean to arrange for good places on the course, so that we can see the Derby."

Joan nodded, with her eyes sparkling now. It began to assume a very real appearance, this stroke of good luck, when John talked of taking her to the Derby.

"I've never seen a horse race," she said simply.

"Nor I," Blake confessed. "We'll see our first one together. And now I must go."

CONRAN SPRINGS A SURPRISE

Blake had no difficulty in finding Mottram's stable at Epson; but there was more trouble about seeing Conran. Only by dint of much persuasion and reiterated assurances that Conran would be able to see him would the taciturn man at the gate consent to send in his card. Three of four powerful looking fellows were hanging about the place, unostentatiously snoring the visitor. It was a little time before John realized that there was a strong guard protecting the Derby favorite.

But Conran consented to see him, and John was admitted past the outposts under escort, and conducted to a pleasant house, in the sitting-room of which a tall, elderly man, with a ruddy, weather-beaten face and beautiful silver hair, rose to greet him.

"You're the Mr. Blake Franklin I heard of in my cable, then?" said Frank Conran, with a hearty handshake. "And a devil of a fellow you have for a friend there, Mr. Blake."

"Franklin cabled to you then?" John said.

"To be sure he did, and glad was I to hear from him," the trainer said. "I'm clear of this jiggery-pokery game to be playing with Franklin's news in my pocket. He says that you'll be backing the winner, it was, maybe, and that I'm to give you all the information you'll be seeking. There's no say to that, Mr. Blake; bar accidents, my colt has the place won already."

"That's good," John answered. "As a matter of fact, Mr. Conran, I'm well acquainted with the fortunate holder of Parachute in the Calcutta Sweep. And, in return for what Franklin is doing to ensure a run for the colt, this lady is disposed to make some liberal arrangements in Franklin's favor."

"A slice of the sweep money," exclaimed the old man, his blue eyes kindling. "That would set poor Franklin on his feet again. What are you proposing, Mr. Blake?"

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Dusting Brush

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis)

"Oh, are you going away, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning as she saw Mr. Longears hopping down the path from his hollow stump bungalow.

"I am going out to look for an adventure," said the rabbit gentleman. "If I don't find one I'll come back. Did you want me to bring you anything from the store?"

"Thank you, no," squeaked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "But your wife is all the moving pictures last night and she can't help do the dusting after I finish sweeping. I was wondering if you would mind taking the dusting brush and working a little after you came back from adventuring."

"That will give me great pleasure," said Mr. Longears. "Leave the dusting brush where I can find it and when I come back I'll help make the bungalow neat and tidy."

"I'll leave the dusting brush on the back steps," said the rabbit, and the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"All right, I'll look for it there," spoke the bunny uncle and then he hopped off down the path whistling a jolly tune.

Now it happened that the Bob Cat was passing along just then. He looked hungrily at Uncle Wiggily over the tops of the bushes but the bad chap was not then brave enough to spring out and try to catch the rabbit when Nurse Jane was near. But the Bob Cat heard what Mr. Longears and Nurse Jane said and to himself the Bob Cat whispered:

"I'll go tell the Fox this is a good chance to get a rabbit dinner. Maybe the Fox will give me a few nibbles for myself."

Off to the den of the Fox hurried the Bob Cat.

"I have just thought of the best trick to catch Uncle Wiggily," said the Bob Cat twitching his silly little stump of a tail.

"Well, tell me," snarled the Fox. "Not that it will be any good," he went on, "and I wouldn't care for it if it was good. None of the tricks that we Bad Chaps play on Uncle Wiggily ever work out right."

"This one will," snarled the Bob Cat. "Listen! Nurse Jane is going to leave the dusting brush out on the back steps where Uncle Wiggily can find it to help clean the bungalow when he comes back."

"Well, what do I care?" snarled the Fox.

"Listen!" said the Bob Cat again, like a telephone girl. "Your big, bad, just like a dusting brush. Now if you were to go to the hollow stump bungalow and hide the real dusting brush that's on the back steps and if you were to hide under the steps and stick your tail out, when Uncle Wiggily came along he would think it was a dusting brush."

"Well, what next?" asked the Fox, beginning to think it was a pretty good trick after all. "What next?"

"Well, Uncle Wiggily, seeing your big, fluffy tail, will think it is Nurse Jane's dusting brush. He'll pick it up and then you can jump out from under the back steps and pretend to be very mad that a rabbit thought your tail was a dusting brush. You'll pull your tail out of Uncle Wiggily's paws and grab him and

"Ah, there's the dusting brush!"

Book of Knowledge

Sketches by Bossey.
Synopsis by Bruchon.

A WALL-RACK

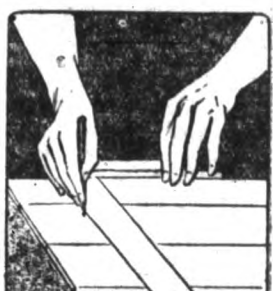

There are countless uses to which a wall-rack, such as the one pictured above, may be put. Placed over a desk it will be found handy for reference books. In a sick-room it will hold the medicines for the convalescent child. Placed in the kitchen it will prove a great joy to the cook. To make it, a condensed-milk box is ideal—8 inches deep, 13 inches wide and 19 inches long.

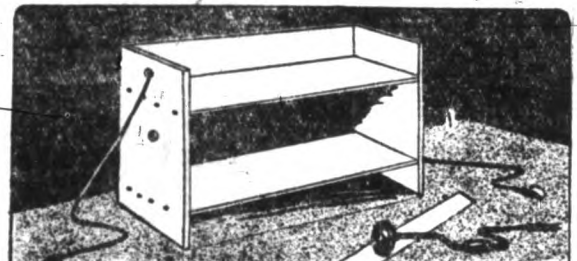

By T.E.A. Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26.

Remove the cover carefully and save it. Take off both sides by withdrawing the nails and cut off each end of the sides, making them the exact length of the box inside.

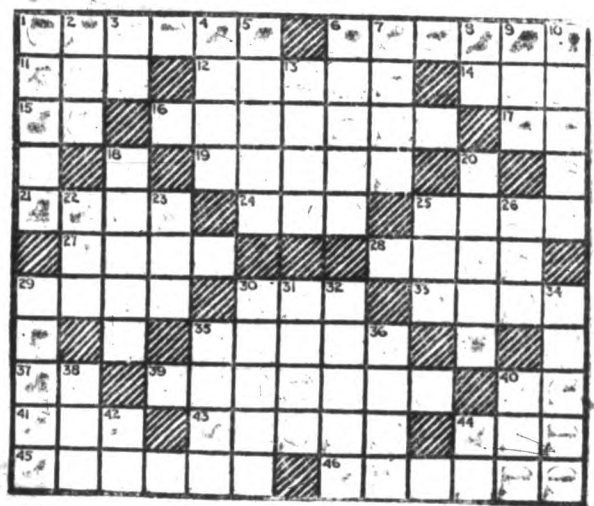

Measure and mark on the two ends of the box a distance two and a half inches from the side edges. Set in the sides, keeping the outside faces on the pencil line.

Secure the sides with nails, driven through each end and the bottom. Plane off the edges and use sandpaper to remove any blemishes. Bore a hole an eighth-inch in diameter in the center of each end, four inches down from the top edge of the rack. Insert the hanging wires through the holes and knot their ends tightly. Stain any color you desire. (Next: Crating).

To-morrow's Horoscope

Adverse aspects dominate in this day's horoscope, according to astrology. The busy hours of the day are rather perilous. It is foretold, especially in any sort of speculation.

In the early morning it is wise to plan constructive work of all sorts, but it is well to think rather than act. Brain workers are well directed and should profit. Writers and editors should find the next three months productive of financial gains.

The rule to-day may be irritating and discouraging to readers and managers of big movements who are likely to encounter unusual obstacles.

There is an aspect inclining persons to believe the worst of one another, but those who hope to gain votes by criticizing their opponents will suffer while this configuration prevails, the seers warn.

The late hours to-day are auspicious for farmers and for workers of every sort. They should be able to express their views clearly. Meetings of every sort are well directed. The listening ear will be the medium of wise decisions under this direction of the stars.

Speakers who use the radio are lucky in making an impression while to-day's aspects prevail.
